LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS COOKING SCHOOL SESSION

DEMONSTRATIONS GIVEN

Many New Ideas Provided By Miss Esther Roehm, Food Lecturer

Despite intermittent showers, a large crowd of enthusiastic Circleville and Pickaway County housewives filled Memorial Hall Wednesday to witness the initial performance of the 1940 Cooking School being presented for three days by The Daily Herald and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. From the dramatic opening until the final delicious serving was completed and displayed in the revolving picture frame, the program was packed full of new ideas presented in a manner that kept the audience highly entertained at all times.

Miss Esther Roehm, food lecturer, gave an unusually fine performance as did her assistant, Miss Dorothy Duncan.

As the title indicates, "Life Begins At Breakfast" placed special emphasis on the preparation and serving of that all important meal which is so often sadly neglected in the modern home. Many unusual breakfast dishes were prepared with the speed and accuracy made possible by modern kitchen equipment. Homemakers in attendance came away with countless new ideas about serving breakfast.

Second Day Program

One of the outstanding features of the program was the use of "Magic Mirrors" to better visualize the cooking demonstrations to the audience. This feature will be continued through the remaining programs of the Institute.

Another extremely interesting program is in store for homemakers Thursday when "Meal of the Day" will be presented. This session covers the preparation and serving of the main meal of the day, offering a score of new suggestions for dishes and menus for the dinner meal.

Entertaining dramatic skits again will enliven the program. As a special attraction, the Cooking School Manager will prepare some delicious servings as a part of one of these skits. This program is of special interest to men as well as women and a capacity crowd is expected.

More Free Prizes

Another long list of merchandise and food prizes will be given away during tomorrow's program. The session begins promptly at 2 p. m. in Memorial Hall. Admission is free to all.

LANCASTER WOULD BOOST PAY FOR ITS POLICEMEN

LANCASTER, March 27—Increased pay for city policemen was recommended today by the Lancaster council. Average pay for the 15 local policemen is $136.33, $13.50 a month less than the average in other cities the size of Lancaster.

Patrol Boat Blast Kills Sailor, Hurts Six Others

NEWPORT, R. I., March 27—A naval inquiry into the mysterious blast on board the United States neutrality patrol destroyer King was under way today as shipmates sought the body of one sailor, believed to have been blown into the sea, while six of his mates lay injured in Naval Hospital.

Captain William S. Faber, patrol commander, said the blast occurred in a deckhouse used as a chemical storeroom. He added it appeared to have been started by gas generated by the chemicals, the gas becoming ignited in some unknown manner.

NINE DEAD, MORE BODIES HUNTED AS HOUSE FALLS

SANTA ROSA, Cal., March 27—In search of additional possible victims, rescue workers today continued clearing the wreckage of a warehouse which collapsed near Santa Rosa late yesterday, crushing to death nine persons.

Weakened by a rain storm and the weight of 270 tons of stored prunes, the building's stilt-like supports gave way.

The nine known victims — an unidentified white man and eight Indians, two of whom were women, had sought refuge from the wind and rain.

COURT TO HEAR SUIT FOR DAMAGES OF $6,000

The case of Stanley Frazier vs. Clifton Reedy in which the plaintiff asks $6,000 damages has been set down to be heard before a jury in the Common Pleas Court Thursday, April 4.

Frazier who was riding in a truck driven by Ernest Barr on August 2, 1939 was returning to Circleville when the truck collided with a car driven by Clifton Reedy of Columbus. The accident happened two miles north of South Bloomfield on Route 23.

Frazier, who was taken to Berger Hospital in Circleville following the crash, accuses Reedy in his petition of negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle. Bone fractures and lacerations kept Frazier at the hospital for several weeks.

Reedy, who was traveling northward, is accused of driving on the left side of the road, swaying back and forth across the center line and forcing Barr to drive off the road. The petition also states that Reedy drove at a greater rate of speed than is in accordance with safety.

Bruises were suffered by Barr while Reedy was unhurt.

NEW HOTEL TO OPEN IN LANCASTER IN MID-MAY

LANCASTER, March 27—Lancaster's new community hotel will be opened for business in mid-May, members of the hotel company said today. The hotel will be operated by Theodore DeWitt, who is also in charge of the Neil House, Columbus; Hollenden, Cleveland; Mayflower, Akron, and others.

WAR SECRETARY SAYS U. S. WILL ASSIST ALLIES

Latest Equipment To Be Provided To Britain And France

BIG MARKET CLAIMED

Powers Ready To Invest Billion In American Aircraft

WASHINGTON, March 27—Denying that military secrets will be released, Secretary of War Harry Woodring today told the house military affairs committee that the latest and best American military planes will be sold to the Allies.

Defending the policy, he also revealed that orders for the army will be delayed as a result of foreign sales.

The war secretary, indirectly referring to rumors that he is in conflict with President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau on foreign plane sales said "I'm not easily pushed around."

Appearing in response to fears expressed in congress that the American defense expansion program will be hampered, Woodring insisted that sales of airplanes for warring nations will promote our own national defense.

He said: "No military secret will be divulged or released to any foreign purchaser of military airplanes."

"Neither designs owned by the War Department nor manufacturers—designs over which the War Department has control, will be released for manufacture or detail assembly abroad."

"Foreign governments must agree to furnish us full and complete information on the design, equipment and combat performance of American made planes."

Allies Ready To Buy

Explaining that, with Allies reportedly ready to buy $1,000,000,000 worth of planes, the War Department is delaying orders for its planes, Woodring said:

MORE OF SCUTTLED NAZI SHIP'S CREW LEAVE U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27—Fourteen crew members of the scuttled German liner Columbus were to embark today on a projected homeward journey.

Sailing to Siberia on the Japanese liner Tatuta Maru, the seamen—third detachment of the original 512 held at the Angel Island immigration station—will attempt to reach Germany by way of the trans-Siberian railroad. The previous groups, one of 35 men and the other of 14, sailed recently on Italian ships. This will leave 449 Nazi sailors at Angel Island.

Captain Fritz Wiedemann, German consul general at San Francisco, said all of the men departing today "are sick and unfit for military service."

SEVERE EARTH SHOCKS FELT ON SEISMOGRAPH

NEW YORK, March 27—Two severe earth shocks, estimated to have occurred about 4,500 miles from New York, were recorded today at Fordham University. The first shock was registered at 7:42 a. m. and the second at 7:51.

PITTSBURGH, March 27—The University of Pittsburgh seismograph recorded two earth shocks today, estimated to have occurred at 7:22 a. m. some 8,000 miles distant.

The shocks were recorded on the Pitt instrument at 7:42:06 and 7:50:48 a. m. Donald C. Bradford, university seismologist, said he could not be certain but believed the shocks originated in the Southwest.

GRANGERS FINISH CORN HUSKING AT DRESBACH'S

Twenty-five Scioto Valley Grangers gathered Tuesday at the farm of Clifton Dresbach, north of South Bloomfield, to finish husking the farm's corn crop. Mr. Dresbach has been seriously ill for several weeks.

The grangers took their lunches with them and repaired to the grange hall, north of Ashville, at noon. Several of the women had preceded the "good samaritans" to the grange hall and had prepared hot coffee and baked beans.

Boy Feared Shot Hunted

Rifle Found After Young Brother Tells Story Of Chase

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 27—Discovery of a high-compression air rifle in a 10-foot snowdrift spurred weary searchers today in their hunt for a missing eight-year-old boy whose younger brother blurted out a story that created fear of a possible slaying.

When last seen yesterday afternoon eight-year-old Kenneth Averill was dashing through deep snow while an older boy, carrying the high-powered rifle, chased him, the missing boy's six-year-old brother told his parents and authorities.

Since then police, aided by Boy Scouts and volunteers, have searched snow-buried Ellison Park and fishermen's shacks on Rondquoit Bay in vain for little Kenneth. The hunt, pressed throughout the night with the aid of searchlights mounted on trucks, continued today under the direction of Sheriff Al Skinner of Monroe County.

Kenneth's younger brother, William, did not know the name of the armed boy who chased his missing brother but estimated his age at about 16 years.

Shortly after he told of Kenneth's flight William led his father, Neil R. Averill, and neighbors to the spot where the rifle, wrapped in papers, was pulled from a snowbank into which it apparently had been thrust deliberately.

The frantic father and a score of neighbors shoveled the high snow for six hours in a vain attempt to find Kenneth. With the temperature hovering around 25 degrees, Sheriff Skinner expressed doubt whether Kenneth, if he had fallen or been pushed into a snowbank with bullet wounds, would be found alive.

MOTHER FOLLOWS SON

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 27—Despite opposition to the death of her son, Jules Yon, 16-year-old Atlantic City High School football player who died after five months in an iron lung, Mrs. Martha Yon ended her life today by hanging.

Bricker Tries to Find Missing Orrville Youth

ORRVILLE, O., March 27—In the belief that Melvin Horst, missing for 12 years, is still alive, an investigator for the State Welfare department worked today under the direction of Gov. John W. Bricker on the mystery of the boy's disappearance when he was four years old. Nephew of Roy Horst, who was a town marshal at the time, Melvin was believed to have been kidnapped December 27, 1928, by a bootlegging gang in reprisal against Horst's liquor raiding activities.

The Welfare Department investigator, who was not named, has been at work on the case continuously for the last several months, it was learned. Mayor C. Wylie Williaman said he also had been inquiring into the case for nearly three years and he said that "we know more about the case now than has ever been known before." Beyond that he would make no comment.

Investigation of the case when it broke resulted in the conviction of Elias Arnold and his son, Arthur, but they later gained a new trial and were acquitted. The FBI has been prevented from entering the case because the

Senator Bailey

THE momentary arrest of Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia by federal authorities on a contempt of court citation is labeled an example of "federal dictation" by United States Senator Ellison (Cotton Ed) Smith of South Carolina and Senator Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, both Democrats. Rivers was cited for contempt when he ignored a court order to reestablish W. L. Miller as chairman of the state highway board after Rivers had had Miller forcibly removed from office.

BRITISH REPORT LOSS OF THREE MORE STEAMERS

LONDON, March 27 — The 5,742-ton British oil tanker Daghestan was sunk in the North Sea on Sunday with the loss of four members of its crew, who were drowned, it was revealed today. Sixteen survivors were rescued. Authorities also revealed that the 6,374-ton British steamer Castlemore was overdue on a voyage from the United States. It was presumed the vessel was lost with all hands.

INDUSTRIAL EMPLOYMENT ABOVE FEBRUARY IN 1939

COLUMBUS, March 27 — Although Ohio's industrial employment declined slightly in February, it was still nine percent above the February, 1939, figure, the Ohio State University Bureau of Business Research announced today.

Declines were recorded in Akron, Cleveland, Canton, Toledo and Youngstown while slight gains were noticeable in Cincinnati and Dayton.

HEAVY GUNFIRE RESUMES ALONG WESTERN FRONT

LONDON, March 27—A sharp encounter between British and Nazi planes over French soil yesterday in which two German and one British craft were shot down was disclosed officially today.

The British patrol encountered a squadron of nine German fighters near Metz, the announcement stated. Two of the German planes were shot down in flames, and one British ship was lost, the pilot escaping by parachute.

PARIS, March 27—Continuous heavy artillery fire on the Western Front, especially between the Moselle and Nied Rivers, and intensive activity were reported in dispatches from the battle zone today.

RYTI REMAINS AS HEAD OF FINNISH GOVERNMENT

HELSINKI, March 27—Still under the leadership of Premier Risto Ryti, a new government was formed in Finland today.

The shake-up had been anticipated. Ryti's previous government had as its chief aim the negotiation of peace with Soviet Russia.

Foreign Minister V. A. Tanner was replaced by Rolf Johan Wisting, who served as an assistant in the ministry from 1933 to 1936. Tanner, however, remained in the cabinet as minister of public welfare.

Other key members of the new Ryti government are Baron Ernst Von Born, minister of home affairs, who formerly was minister without portfolio; Major General Carl Rudolf Walden, defense minister; M. Peikkala, finance minister.

The agricultural ministry will be shared by P. V. Heikkinen and J. Koivisto.

MUCH JUICE; NO HURT

CINCINNATI, March 27—Although he was hurled eight feet through space when he touched wires carrying 15,000 volts of electricity, Robert Hughes, 20, went about his duties today with only minor burns to show for his unusual experience. The accident occurred at the Sage Institute of Neon where Hughes is a student.

MOSCOW CALLS ATTACHE AFTER PARIS PROTESTS

Newspapers Demand Break After Ambassador's Telegram Is Read

EXPULSION THREATENED

Britain Continues Tight Blockade Despite Anger Voiced By Norway

By International News Service
Growing diplomatic hostility between Soviet Russia and France reached a new and advanced stage today as Moscow announced the recall of Jacob Suritz, Soviet ambassador to Paris, at the request of the French government.

A lengthy Russian communique said that Suritz "no longer is considered persona grata by the French government," which demanded his recall because of a telegram he addressed to Josef Stalin in connection with the Russo-Finnish peace agreement.

Passages in the telegram referring to "Anglo-French war instigators," and "sinister schemes" of "enemies of socialism" caused the French government to demand Suritz's recall, the Russian announcement said.

In Paris, where officials remained silent for the time being, newspapers called for rupture of Russo-French diplomatic relations. But a high source told International News Service that recall of the ambassador "does not imply a rupture of diplomatic relations."

France informed Moscow that Suritz would be expelled unless he were recalled, French informants revealed.

Incident "Unfortunate"

Soviet embassy circles in London regarded the newest Russo-French incident as "unfortunate" but said they expected no repercussions in London and no change in Anglo-Russian ambassadorial relations. The Russian ambassador to London is still home on leave.

According to the London Daily Express, the French move in no way implies similar action by Britain.

In London, Scandinavian quarters hoped for some method to put teeth into the Norwegian protest to London against a "gross violation" of Norway's neutrality by a British destroyer, which was said to have fired a shell that landed on Norwegian soil while attempting to halt a German vessel near the Norwegian coast.

Possibility of some anti-British counter-action unless London's reply to the protest is satisfactory was under discussion. At the same time, there were indications that Germany might try to smash the British naval blockade against shipments to the Reich from Scandinavia.

More intense activity continued along the Western Front, according to Paris, which reported heavy artillery fire and considerable patrol activity. French patrols were said to have penetrated deep into German lines, obtaining important information.

COLLEGE FROWNS ON 'HONEYMOON MANSION'

BERKELEY, Cal., March 27 — The consensus of eminent psychologists and sociologists today opposed the University of California's proposed "honeymoon mansion."

Ten couples of married students had planned to reduce living expenses by leasing a large house near the campus.

"The plan has great possibilities economically but it is dangerous emotionally," declared Henry M. Grant of the university's Family Relation Center.

"There is bound to be jealousy and thoughts of mate stealing. Many may be attracted to the wrong people and people will at least imagine things."

"It's hard enough to get along with one woman,"

Meanwhile, the 10 married couples and their student husbands, unabashed by the critics, went ahead with their plans to live in close harmony.

NATIONAL GUARD UNITS EXPECT TREK TO NORTH

Training This Summer To Be
For Three Weeks Instead
Of Usual 15 Days

TENTATIVE DATES NOTED

War Maneuvers To Center
About Camp Monroe In Wisconsin

Circleville's two Ohio National Guard units are awaiting definite instructions concerning their 1940 training activities. The units, including service battery and medical detachment, usually train at Fort Knox, Ky. and Camp Perry, O., but the War Department has announced that all training will be done in Wisconsin this year and that instead of the usual 15-day trips the guardsmen will participate in maneuvers for three weeks.

Officers of the service battery unit expect to be assigned to Sparta, Wisconsin, leaving Circleville on August 8 and returning September 4. Since the outfit is a service unit it will be assigned to the field of maneuvers ahead of other outfits in order to prepare the camp site for other units to follow.

The service battery is a part of the 136th Field Artillery which also includes battery groups from Dayton and Columbus although the Circleville unit is the largest with 89 men. Dayton has 26 and Columbus four, the latter being administrative officers. The Circleville unit must reach a strength of 46 men.

It is commanded by Captain William W. Miller of Columbus. The medical outfit, headed by Captain Ruppberg, also of Columbus, has not received its instructions either although its members expect to leave Circleville August 11.

The maneuvers, which will center at Camp Monroe, Wisconsin, from August 11 to 31, will be the most extensive since the World War. Ten thousand Ohio National Guardsmen will be among those participating.

FIVE NAZIS ON WAY TO AMERICA TO WIN BUSINESS

LONDON, March 27—The London Daily Sketch said today that a German mission of five men is en route to the United States via Russia for the purpose of influencing American business in favor of the Reich.

The paper said passages booked by the Germans aboard the Italian liner Conte Di Savoia were cancelled at the last moment when it was learned that the British would search the vessel for them at the Gibraltar control port.

KENNEDY CITES HARMONY NEED OF DEMOCRATS

NORWALK, March 27—The only real issue before Ohio Democrats this year is "peace and harmony and victory in November," according to William J. Kennedy, of Cleveland, one of eight candidates seeking his party's gubernatorial nomination.

In a speech at a Jackson Day dinner last night, Kennedy urged Huron County Democrats to back a candidate who could win next fall.

"To nominate a man who can't be elected in November puts butter on no man's bread," Kennedy, former secretary of state, said.

"Ohio Democrats cannot afford the luxury of muddling or squabbling," he continued, "to rely on fate and a national ticket to pull them through."

"We cannot fail to consider the fact that Senator Vic Donahey, Ohio Democracy's best vote getter, will be missing from the ballot this fall. There is no guarantee that President Roosevelt, who undoubtedly could carry Ohio by a gigantic majority, will be a candidate for re-election."

Kennedy said if he won the nomination, he would "take care" of Bricker in the fall campaign. He intimated he would lead the battle against the Republican administration.

RICH GOLD MINE FOUND IN HILLS NEAR PHOENIX

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 27—An abandoned Spanish gold mine of "unbelievable wealth" has been located in the Superstition mountains east of Phoenix, it was announced today by a mining engineer and a writer-adventurer.

The discovery, said Walter Upson, mining engineer, and Barry Storm, writer, was made by three prospectors in the vicinity of the legendary "Lost Dutchman" mine, said to hold untold wealth and sought after for nearly 50 years by hundreds of prospectors.

Upson said the old Spanish mine was apparently worked in the early 1800's, and contained evidences of high producing lode. It contains old timbering, is a cave-like excavation and is honey-combed with tunnels. Ox-cart trails are still visible, he said.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

The motion picture treatment of Rudyard Kipling's most famous novel, "The Light That Failed," opens Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre, with as impressive a cast as has ever graced a movie.

The ever-popular Ronald Colman plays the role of handsome Dick Helder, swashbuckler, artist and war reporter, cast in the heroic mold as only Kipling could cast a hero, who for almost two generations was the heart-interest of girls and women throughout the world.

The role of Torpenhow, soldier-of-fortune and war correspondent, who "fathered" the rapscallion Helder and made him the sensation of London, is played by Walter Huston, veteran of many outstanding motion picture dramas and Broadway productions, the latest of which was "Knickerbocker Holiday," one of New York's outstanding recent stage productions.

The role of Bessie, the street

HIGH SCHOOL BANS BRIDES

BUTTE, Mont.—Widows, brides and divorcees are barred from attending Butte high schools through a ruling recently made by the city school board. The board claimed that such students "do not materially profit from high school attendance" and "in many instances have exerted a bad influence on other girls of the school."

gamin whom Helder befriends, only to have her turn on him in what is one of the strongest climactic scenes in modern literature, is portrayed by beautiful Ida Lupino, while the part of Maisie, the girl he loved, is played by a beauty new to the screen—lovely Muriel Angelus, of the New York stage.

cy but a highly desirable policy for the government to accept later delivery dates for certain planes in order to secure the advantage of 'change orders' which will give our air corps improved equipment.

Woodring further asserted: "Development of plane types is today so rapid that the acceptance of certain models now being manufactured, involves the possibility of our air corps receiving in quantity types which would soon be surpassed in performance by later models."

He denied that foreign orders have either delayed War Department purchases it wishes to make or has increased the cost.

Congress, Woodring revealed, may be asked to permit extension of the program under which it was planned to expand the air corps to 5,500 planes by June 30, 1941. This would be done, he indicated, by making appropriations available over a longer period.

An Italian communique, issued after a conference between Premier Mussolini and Hungarian Premier Count Paul Teleki, announced increased collaboration between Italy and Hungary, adding that this would "coincide perfectly with relations existing between Italy and Germany."

LONDON, March 27—Action of the French government in demanding recall of Jacob Suritz, Russian ambassador to Paris, is regarded by British diplomatic quarters as the result of a personal offense by the ambassador, the London Daily Express said today. The paper said the action does not necessarily mean that Russo-French diplomatic relations will be broken off, and in no way implies similar action on the part of Great Britain.

west of the Saar River numerous German patrols operated in No Man's Land.

The Germans launched a few attacks against French outposts but these were repulsed.

The French also sent out a number of patrols and some of these penetrated deep into the German lines, bringing back important information, it was claimed.

French planes carried out reconnaissance and photographic flights but no aerial combats developed. German pursuit planes flew over the French lines, apparently concentrating their observations on the Saar Region.

The German observation flights ranged from three to thirteen planes. Today's French war communique stated merely:

"Nothing to report."

BERLIN, March 27—Capture of several French soldiers in a skirmish on the Western Front and destruction of two Allied planes in an air battle were announced by the German war communique today.

TRUCKER FACES CHARGES AFTER FOUR BOYS DIE

SANDUSKY, O., March 27—Second degree manslaughter charges were placed today against Harold M. Malott, 24, of Bradner, O., in connection with a traffic accident early Monday that cost the lives of four Cleveland youths.

Malott, who had been held for questioning since the accident, was charged with failing to operate his truck so it could be stopped within the required distance; driving without regard for the safety of others, and driving at a high rate of speed.

He was to be arraigned later today.

Malott was driving a truck owned by the Libbie Stock Farms when it crashed into the rear of a coupe carrying six Cleveland youths to a CCC camp at Attica. The coupe was demolished and four of the boys instantly killed.

Joseph Mazur is in a hospital with several fractured vertebrae and is not expected to live. The driver of the coupe, Kenneth Millheim, escaped with bruises and lacerations.

ANNUAL RELIEF STUDY OPENED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, March 27—President Roosevelt today began to explore federal relief requirements for the fiscal year 1941 preliminary to making specific recommendations to congress.

In his annual budget message last January, the President said most people felt relief expenditures should not fall below $1,300,000,000 and promised to give congress a later and more specific estimate of needs.

WPA Administrator F. C. Harrington and Budget Director Harold Smith were called into a White House conference today as the President began to assemble his facts.

The presidential special message will deal specifically with WPA requirements, for which the house appropriations committee as yet has no estimates beyond the rough over-all figure contained in the January budget message. Congress already has decided to allot the CCC $230,000,000 and the National Youth Administration $85,000,000 for the 1941 fiscal year. Farm Credit Administration will get approximately $123,000,000.

SUPERIORITY

THE world learns from Adolf Hitler the revolutionary doctrine that a "superior people" has a right, by virtue of its superiority, to do as it pleases with an "inferior" nation or race. Thus the German Nazis hold themselves blameless, and even praiseworthy, when they do what they have done to Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Unenlightened observers in other countries might think that such procedure was plain murder, robbery, arson and calculated cruelty, and that what the conquerors are now doing to the native survivors in those countries is barbarous. But not so! The outsiders who criticize the Nazis for their acts are themselves not enlightened enough to grasp the principles of this ideology. The Nazis alone are civilized and right, and it is their mission to make universal the principles they profess.

And if they succeeded, Americans and most other nations think, it would certainly be a hell of a world.

We do not believe that the old ethics of honesty, decency and human brotherhood are outmoded. We still cling to considerable areas of morality and religion.

What Hitler and his crew of civilization-wreckers profess seems like a combination of primitive tribal nonsense and Nietzsche's crazy doctrine of the anarchistic "Superman."

Nietzsche taught that Might Makes Right. We Americans turn that around. We still cling, in spite of considerable disillusionment, to the Christian and Hebrew and Buddhist and Stoic principle that Right Makes Might.

And we still think that "superior people" are not those who rob and kill their neighbors, but those who help their neighbors.

BAD MAN'S LUCK

IT was cruel, the trick that fate played on Melvin Biesemer of Minneapolis. Melvin decided to be a bold, bad man. He would go forth and challenge society and get a break for himself. So he stuck a sawed-off shotgun in his right trouser leg and started out to make the world deliver.

When Melvin saw a place called "Right Spot Cafe" he took it for a good omen. He swaggered in and yelled, "This is a stick-up!" At the same moment he thrust his good right hand into his belt to jerk out the shotgun. But the playgun gun stuck, and while he was struggling to draw it somebody jumped onto him, and in the mix-up the gun went off with a tremendous

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

WOODRING TALKS OF RESIGNING

WASHINGTON—For a long time now the Inner Circle has been pulling and pushing to bounce genial little Harry Woodring out of the Cabinet. And where everything else has failed, it now looks as if the question of selling U. S. airplane secrets to the Allies might do the trick.

As Secretary of War, Harry is opposed to the sale. He even goes considerably further. At a dinner party he told Kansas friends that he feared the President was edging the country into the European mess, and that he, Woodring, might have to resign in protest.

Roosevelt, on the other hand, favors selling the Allies the latest model U. S. airplanes, and selling them as quickly as possible. Assistant Secretary of War Johnson feels the same way and so does Secretary of the Navy Edison, son of the famed inventor. He says that no invention remains secret long, and the French and British might as well help us perfect them.

One secret airplane type which the Allies want to buy is the P-46, a new pursuit plane in which the United States lifted certain ideas from the Germans, particularly a two-foot lower fuselage which cuts down wind resistance.

Roosevelt and Johnson feel that if we took this idea from the Germans, there is no reason why the British can't do the same (except for the time element), and that we can perfect better planes by building for the French and British.

Another new plane which the Allies are eying covetously is the P-38, a Lockheed pursuit plane with a twin Allison motor. In this case, the Germans took over some ideas from us. They built two similar types, the Messerschmidt 112, which was a failure, and the Messerschmidt 111, which is excellent and makes 389 miles per hour using a supercharger.

Meanwhile the Lockheed P-38 makes 381 miles per hour without using a supercharger, which when added adds about 39 miles of speed.

At present, the plane itself is not secret, but the supercharger is. If the British buy the plane alone they get a ship which goes eight miles slower than the new German Messerschmidt. But if they can buy the secret supercharger, the speed will be about 30 miles faster than the Germans. So some high-placed Army men believe the supercharger should be sold to them.

BRITISH FAILURE

Allied censors have tried to suppress it, but British aviation has fallen far short of expectations. The raid over Sylt was a miserable failure, most of the bombs hitting only the sand.

Also the British were caught completely napping when the Nazis raided Scapa Flow. British anti-aircraft guns were late in getting into action, while British pursuit planes did not get into the air until the Germans had started home. Showing how roar, Melvin swooned. And when he came to, somebody was sitting on him and the cops were arriving.

How humiliating!

—By—
Charles P. Stewart

IN CONNECTION with war conditions, English newspapers have been saying some rather disagreeable things about Uncle Sam lately and American newspapers have been reciprocating as to John Bull and his ways. Officially there is nothing amiss except that Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy has been quoted as reporting to President Roosevelt that the London government has badly bungled its diplomacy since even before actual hostilities developed. Neither governmental Washington nor London has taken any notice of the mutually increasing unpleasantness of press comment, however, nor has the British foreign office paid any attention to Ambassador Kennedy's reported utterances to the White House—though English editorial writers have been decidedly vocal on the latter subject.

All this isn't to say that American sentiment is believed to be switching pro-Hitlerward or pro-Stalinward or that it's switching at all emphatically in the direction of anti-Britishness or anti-Frenchness.

Nevertheless, Washington senses a developing Yankee feeling that the British (not so much the French) incline to impose considerably upon American good nature in managing the anti-German blockade. Maybe the French would do it, too, if they had Britain's sea-strength to "get away with it," but they haven't; so J. Bull is the individual principally criticized.

For instance, Uncle Sam doesn't like British interference with his overseas mails. He doesn't like undue delay of his merchant vessels for contraband overhauling at Britishly-controlled ports, or the forcible British steering of such vessels into dangerous waters. He doesn't like having his exports and imports, in neutral craft, Britishly supervised. He doesn't like having British cruisers disregarding our Pan-American neutrality zone.

There's no question about these objections, because our state department has specifically expressed them in formal communications to London.

But John Bull's navy pays no attention to these mild representations, and the state department hesitates to put them in the form of vigorous protests or warnings, not desiring to risk an out-and-out strain on British-American relations.

PRESS RESENTMENT

American popular sentiment, though, appears to be getting pretty resentful—not belligerent, but quite "huffy." And the American press reflects it.

The English press, in turn, represents the American press' resentment.

Its attitude is, "Well, you Americans sympathize with us, don't you, against Nazi-ism?"

The answer is, "Yes, with the qualification that we're neutral."

This makes the English editorial writers sorer than ever. "We take it then," they say, "that you fellows want us to fight for your democracy including yours, but you propose to stand on every-little technicality against us."

They also rake up the old story that the United States, after the last war, expected the Allies to pay what they owed to us. They didn't do it, but they still realize that we originally thought they would.

Consequently, Uncle Samuel again is referred to as "Uncle Shylock."

Isn't this enough to make any American hot under the collar? The state department restrains itself, but some of our newspapers show a good bit of temper. At that, they haven't said anything nearly as disagreeable as some of the English papers have said about us.

IN PARENTHESIS

Parenthetically: Nobody doubts that the Germans would have been as unceremonious with us as the British have been—only they haven't enough of a navy.

All they've been able to do is a little pocketbattleship poaching in our neutrality zone—but on too small a scale to amount to much. And they've scuttled a few of their blockade-runners within our waters. If they choose to scuttle some of their own craft, what do we care!

As to Ambassador Kennedy, it may have been un diplomatic of him to say that Prime Minister Chamberlain has bungled Britain's foreign relationships worse than Fuehrer Hitler has done since pre-war days up to date, but it's hard to deny that he's done so.

Attacking Stomach Ills With Aluminum

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

From a reader: "I understand that aluminum is now being used to treat stomach ailments. What about the theory that it causes cancer?"

Yes, aluminum hydroxide has been used for four or five years in the treatment of ulcer of the stomach and acid dyspepsia. It has proved to be one of the most effective anti-acids that we have because it neutralizes excessive acid in the stomach which is present in ulcer, and it does not have any of the disagreeable features of other drugs. It does not cause alkalosis, as sodium bicarbonate sometimes does; it does not cause diarrhea, as magnesium oxide sometimes does, and it does not cause constipation, as bismuth sometimes does.

It controls spasms and pain of the stomach. I know a number of people with ulcer, who carry aluminum hydroxide jelly around with them and take it as patients used to take tablets of alkalis, such as sodium bicarbonate and magnesium oxide. Severe cases of ulcer are treated very satisfactorily with this medicine.

There is no danger of its causing cancer and there never was. The campaign that aluminum cooking utensils cause cancer is a piece of "conscience" propaganda, in thoroughly ignorant and vicious, in which there is not a word of truth.

About the Teeth

I have received a number of questions about crooked and irregular teeth:

"What causes crooked and irregular teeth?" Diseased tonsils and enlarged adenoids, too early extraction of temporary teeth, insufficient exercise and habits such as thumb sucking. In many cases the teeth grow in crooked without any known cause.

"How are crooked teeth straightened?" By an appliance which stimulates growth and guides teeth into proper position. The dental specialty which deals with this is called orthodontia.

"What is the best age for starting treatment?" Between the ages of seven and 10 years.

"Is the treatment painful?" Not to any degree.

"Do teeth have a tendency to decay if an appliance is worn?" There is no reason to worry about this if the teeth are kept clean and well brushed.

"How long does it take to straighten teeth?" No definite time limit can be set, as every case varies. In most cases the hardest part of the treatment is completed the first year.

Correction: In an article entitled, "Guests that Stay on for the Winter," published Jan. 19, 1940, in this column, sodium fluoride was erroneously described as harmless to man and animals.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

THE KILLER SPEAKS

RICHARD HOUGHTON

WRITTEN FOR AND RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

READ THIS FIRST:

I, Bill Strickland, am suspected in the murder of my friend, Alfred Markham, rich young jeweler, at a party at the Rio Vista club. Captain of Detectives Clyde McDonald is convinced of my innocence, but young Coroner Silver doubts me.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

AS WE rode back from the club in the captain's car I noticed by the clock on the Valley bank that it was past midnight, but I was not in a position to refuse his suggestion that I return to the station with him for a talk.

At the police station we found Coroner Silver standing at the desk talking with the sergeant. He turned as we entered. He was as immaculately dressed as ever. I wondered if business interfered much with his parties. His eyebrows lifted when he saw me.

"Well," greeted the captain, "what brings you here, Silver?"

The coroner frowned. "A suicide. He did not elaborate. 'I see you have the man you were after.'"

"The man you were after, not the man I was after," McDonald corrected him with a smile. "He came to the station of his own accord—after escaping from a kidnaper."

"Kidnap?"

"Right."

"But—"

"I know it sounds improbable," I told him. "I was knocked out by someone who was in the garden an hour after Mr. Markham's death. Louise Markham and a reporter from The Morning Eagle found me today, bound and gagged. You'll read all about it in the morning paper."

"I looked at the clock. 'I believe it's just going to press now.'"

"Hang the papers! Isn't there any way we can keep them out of this, Captain?"

Captain McDonald shrugged his big shoulders. "I'm afraid Belzer is two jumps ahead of us again. He somehow got Miss Louise Markham to help him, so there wasn't much I could do after I found out. It was too late, anyway. I didn't learn about it until a couple of hours ago."

"But we can't have the press interfering."

The captain removed his cigar and looked at it thoughtfully. It was badly mangled, but like most of his cigars, had never been lighted. "After all, I'll have to confess that Belzer has sometimes been a help to us. I'm willing to overlook this little escapade of his, especially if I find he's put up any new facts for us. I'm curious to read what he's written." The captain, too, looked at the clock. "As Strickland says, The Morning Eagle will soon be off the press. Suppose we go somewhere for a cup of coffee, and wait?"

If the coroner had any objections he swallowed them. He must have thought he and I would be a strange looking pair. I, too, was wearing a tuxedo, but it must have looked like a car had run over me. I had soaked and dried. My trousers and coat were filthy with dirt. One knee was a little worse than the other. Although the doctor, too, had assured me that the bullet had merely creased my leg, it still stung.

We found a coffee shop that was almost deserted. The sallow faced waitress gave me hardly a second glance. She'd probably seen Captain McDonald in queer company before.

"You'll be at the inquest tomorrow,"

row, Strickland," the coroner informed me in an off-hand tone as he raised his coffee cup.

Perhaps it was meant to be a question, but it sounded like an order.

"Of course, but will I be required to testify? It would seem that if I am under suspicion, anything I said might be held against me—"

"You are in a rather bad spot as far as I am concerned. Suppose you ask the advice of an attorney."

"No one has charged Strickland with anything," the captain snorted indignantly. "I tell you, Silver, it's all foolishness."

"Perhaps so. On the other hand, a man is foolish to take chances."

I settled the argument. "Harry McGuire is an attorney friend of mine. I'll see him in the morning."

"In the meantime," the captain said, "we, of course, have your assurance that you'll attend the inquest?"

I looked at the coroner. "I have no intention of running away. I might mention that I've received a threat, however. I can't guarantee I won't be the victim of another kidnapping."

They were both surprised. When I had told them about the note thrown in through the window at the Markham place, Captain McDonald quickly assured me that he would have an officer guard my studio on Laurel street. I protested that it wasn't necessary, but I withdrew my protest when the thought suddenly occurred to me that perhaps he intended to guard me anyway. Perhaps he didn't trust me as much as he made out. It was an uncomfortable feeling.

I finished my coffee at a gulp and lit a cigarette. My fingers trembled slightly.

"Captain McDonald thinks this was an almost perfect crime," I said, "planned far in advance. What is your theory, Coroner Silver?"

"I don't believe it was carefully planned. It may be a so-called 'almost perfect crime,' but that kind of crime, in which few clues are left, usually is committed on the spur of the moment. The carefully planned crime generally has so many angles that in arranging it the criminal leaves more clues than he covers up. It becomes so complicated that it gets away from him."

"The coroner's mouth opened. 'Hobnailed boot prints! I was examining hobnailed boot prints not half an hour ago, at the scene of tonight's suicide!'"

Today's Fashion

THE HALF-AND-HALF costume, patterned and plain, is popular for suits this spring. Here it is developed in navy and green plaid for the skirt, and navy wool (with a plaid collar) for the jacket. The jacket, to show that it is very new, is longer than the usual run of suit coats. The yoke terminates in a seam over the bust. The back is the same except for two inverted pleats in place of the seams. The skirt uses the plaid on the straight except for a panel center front, which is like one large box pleat.

plants with scarcely any set-back. This is known as the ball and burlap method of transplanting.

To transplant by this method first dig a trench all around the shrub, as shown in the accompanying drawing. The trench should be wide enough and deep enough to leave most of the roots within the ball of earth about the plant. Next thrust a sharp spade slantwise underneath the ball, thus severing any tap roots. The carefully trim the edges of the ball of earth until it is circular in shape. Any roots which extend beyond the ball can be folded back against it.

Take special care to prevent the ball of earth from cracking. Wrap it in burlap and the securely before attempting to lift the shrub and move it to its new location.

DISTRICT SCOUT FLAG AWARDED AT HONOR COURT

Troop 205 Of Presbyterian Church Advances Many Youngsters

100 PERSONS TAKE PART

Probate Judge Speaks Of Juvenile Court Work, Delinquency

Advancements, promotions and merit badges were heaped on Troop 107 of the First Methodist Church and Troop 205 of the Presbyterian Church as the Boy Scout's Court of Honor met at the Circleville High School Tuesday night to award the District Flag to Troop 205.

Dr. Robert E. Hedges, chairman of the advancement committee, presided during the bestowing of the awards. The other committee men are Guy Cline, Dr. J. J. Baker, the Rev. C. F. Bowman and Joseph W. Adkins, Jr. who was named as the chairman of the advancement for 1940-41.

Advancements and awards which were given to Troop 205 of which Dr. F. C. Shaeffer is scoutmaster are as follows: Presentation of the District Flag to the entire troop; promotion to second class scout, George Towers; promotion to first class scout, Paul Staley and Mack Young; merit badges, Carl Jenkins, Mack Young, Gerald Mason, James Sensenbrenner, Paul Staley; star rank scout, Gerald Mason; senior patrol leader, Paul Staley.

The awards which were received by Troop 107 of which Ervin Leist is scoutmaster are merit badges, George Helwagen, and Robert Griesheimer; senior patrol leader, David Yates; junior assistant scout master, Carl Bach.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. C. F. Bowman of the Methodist Church as the Court of Honor convened. Eagle Scout David Yates then led the 100 persons present in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The assembled group sang "America".

Eagle Scout Carl Bach led the troops in the recitation of the Oath and the Law.

Probate Judge Lemuel Weiden addressed the meeting and spoke on the work of the juvenile court and the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Following the judge's address, the Rev. Robert Kelsey of the Presbyterian Church introduced the members of the Court of Honor. The Court then made the presentation of the awards. Dr. J. J. Baker presented the District Flag to Troop 205.

Dr. Hedges led the singing of "God Bless America" as the last of the awards was made and Eagle Scout David Orr closed the Court by offering the Scoutmaster's Benediction.

SHOWERS FOR GIRLS CREATE BIG SPLASH

These professional models pose to show, top, the solo "correct" method of showering, and, below, "violating the rules of modesty" by sharing a shower with another girl.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., March 27—Girl physical education pupils in the local high schools can't take shower baths at school without written consent of their parents and upon their own individual option.

A spirited fuss has been kicked up by complaint of E. V. Gustafson, school board member, prominent in civic activities, who maintains that archery, rifle practice and shower baths included in the girls' physical training curriculum are of relatively little value, considering the cost.

Gustafson's objections to showers are that they take too much time, and are not necessary when classes participate in the less strenuous sports. Dr. Christine Erickson-Hill, another school board member, defends showers with the statements that modern girls demand more vigorous exercises than did their mothers of the clinging-vine days.

"Let Doctor Decide"

G. W. Kirm, principal of Abraham Lincoln High school, declares the school will be glad to drop showers completely whenever Council Bluffs physicians tell him the girls would be better off without them.

In a two-page statement, Gustafson said several parents complained to him about the necessity of more than one girl using the same shower compartment at the same time.

Other parents, Gustafson declared, have reported that their daughters contracted foot infection.

tion instructor, points out that showers never have been compulsory, or even expected in cold weather, that foot baths of disinfectant provided by the board of education are supervised, that girls are excused from all physical exercise whenever necessary and that "every consideration is given their health."

Because of crowded conditions, and to save time, they admit "girls who did not object were asked to go by pairs to the showers, but any girl who wished to take her shower alone was given that privilege. Every condition of modesty possible under the crowded locker condition is rigorously maintained. Girls are dismissed at staggered times to avoid congestion of the locker rooms."

Ray Myers, principal, and Hannah Nyholm, physical education instructor at Thomas Jefferson, report that girls are not compelled to take showers, that there is provision for privacy for girls desiring it, and that girls who do not take them can achieve a satisfactory rating by outlining chapters in hygiene instead. About five percent of the 620 girls enrolled there do not take showers.

Lively Topic

More than 150 persons attended one spirited school board session at which the shower question was discussed. Many voiced protests against compulsory baths, and Gustafson said that "the more I investigated the more I found pupils living under a 'fear of psychology'."

Although the board finally ordered written parental consent for showers, it laid over for future action any changes in the girls' physical training curriculum.

TRAIN HITS CAR OF HIGH SCHOOL BOY, KILLS HIM

COLUMBUS, March 27—Injuries received when his automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad engine today had caused the death of Robert Smith, 16-year-old North High School student. Robert, the son of Rondo Smith, died in University Hospital at 9:30 o'clock last night, two and one-half hours after the accident. Police said the youth apparently

FLEET ON WEST COAST TO START DRILLS TUESDAY

SAN PEDRO, Cal., March 27—Uncle Sam's west coast armada of fighting ships will put to sea next Tuesday for the start of 1940 naval maneuvers in the Pacific, Admiral James O. Richardson, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, announced today.

"All combatant ships of the United States fleet normally basing on west coast ports will have cleared San Pedro-Long Beach harbor April 2 for fleet problem XXI," the admiral said.

"Eleven battleships, 12 heavy cruisers, three aircraft carriers and 65 destroyers will participate in the first phase of the problem."

Admiral Richardson said the second phase of the maneuvers will be conducted in the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands, while the first phase will be in the Eastern Pacific.

CREWS HOPE TO FIND REMAINING BLAST VICTIMS

NEFFS, O., March 27—Cleanup crews today hoped to reach the last of the bodies of 72 miners killed in the March 16 explosion at the Willow Grove Mine of the Hanna Coal Company. Five bodies still remained in the blast-torn wreckage.

Meanwhile, state and federal mine inspectors inspected a blasted powder magazine, uncovered yesterday, which company officials said might have caused the blast or increased its force.

Officials said the powder box was considered to be almost accident-proof and that powder in it could not be set off unless the lid was open. Shortly after the explosion, however, officials said they did not consider blasting powder to be the likely cause of the explosion.

RED 'PUBLICITY' IN BOOKS GETS DIES ATTENTION

Committee Calls Secretary Of Party To Seek Name Of Forger

CONTEMPT THREATENED

Six-Month Survey Of Use Of Subversive Material In Volumes Ordered

WASHINGTON, March 27 — The Dies Committee moved swiftly on three fronts today in its war against un-American activities.

Developments in the campaign were:

1. Committeemen prepared to hear George Powers, Communist secretary for western Pennsylvania who was subpoenaed in Pittsburgh and ordered to bring all his party records to Washington today. Powers will be asked what Communist used the alias "Franklin D. Roosevelt" as his party name, and if he refuses to answer will face a possible contempt citation.

2. Rep. Thomas (R) N. J., a committee member, consulted an unnamed expert retained to make a six-month survey of asserted subversive material in textbooks. "A great deal of Communist doctrine has filtered into school books and is doing immeasurable harm," Thomas declared. "Cleaning that up will be the best job this committee has ever done."

3. Investigator George F. Hurley dispatched subpoenas for "several" men to El Paso, Tex., where it is alleged Mexican and American Communists have banded together seeking to overthrow the U. S. government. Some agents working on the case declared they believed Communists in Mexico were ready to stage a revolt and were seeking to organize "fellow travelers" on this side of the border.

Investigators who subpoenaed Powers in Pittsburgh yesterday said they also tried to serve Martin Young, Allegheny County secretary for the Communist party. They reported he had "skipped," but said officers were searching for him.

Young allegedly countersigned a card bearing the alias "Franklin D. Roosevelt" and found in the possession of another Pittsburgh Communist—James Hulse Dolsen. Dolsen refused to say which member paraded under the President's name. The committee has a contempt citation pending against him.

Chairman Dies (D) Tex., announced that all key Communists in Pittsburgh who can be located will be asked about this card as well as for lists of their fellow members. If they refuse to respond, he said, they will be charged with contempt.

The committee decided yesterday to make the sweeping survey of school text books. The motion was made by Thomas, who charged that "it's a time for a show-down."

Committee Secretary Robert Stripling disclosed that in the last year he has had referred to him 300 complaints protesting against some books used in schools.

B. I. S. REPORTS ESCAPE OF TRIO; ONE IS CAUGHT

LANCASTER, March 27 — In the second escape since Sunday, three youths fled the Boys' Industrial School last night, officials reported today.

At the same time, the state highway patrol informed school authorities they had apprehended Jack Rickard, 17, of Toledo, one of three who made good his escape Sunday night. Rickard was picked up in Tiffin.

Latest to flee the Boys' Industrial School, according to officials, were John Bradner, 16, of Fostoria; Herman Weber, 16, of Hamilton, and Robert Halliday, 17, of Warren. Still at large as a result of Sunday's escape were Charles Ash, 17, Lawrence County, and Robert Knaus, 15, Cleveland.

Won't be long now until the local ball players will be organizing themselves into a team for the season games. Other teams of the surrounding communities will have organizations of their own, and with all these in action and in a league of their own, the ball fans should not go short on this kind of recreation for the ball playing season. If and when our own boys get into action we'll be telling you about it.

The Ashville Community Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday evening at the Valley Creamery dining room with a banquet in connection with the business session and program.

By verbal agreement Tuesday, two East Lawn addition lots were sold and if the transfer is made today, we'll be telling you about those two more fine dwellings which will add to the attractiveness of that splendid section of the village. No, our municipal building has not "gone dead" but resting in the preliminary stages.

Street Commissioner Bob Walden and a force of several helpers are busy spring cleaning village streets and alleys. Work on the large East Side storm water sewer will be begun within a short time now.

Auto license plates of the old edition are taboo after midnight, Sunday, the 31st. Sales with the local distributor, Clyde Brinker, have been on the increase for the last couple of days but have not reached the rush stage yet. Up to this date sales continue to keep ahead of last year for the same period. According to official announcement, there will be no extension of time allowed.

Dishes Like This Are A Cinch

IN A MODERN TAPPAN GAS RANGE

Difficult dishes become unbelievably easy to prepare with a modern Tappan gas range. Here you see Miss Esther Roehm, food lecturer of the Gasco Food Institute, about to remove two luscious looking dishes from the roomy Tappan "Visualite" oven. Both of these servings are prepared during the second day's Food Institute program. Recipes for them appear below.

Stuffed Cabbage

1 head cabbage
1 onion
4 strips bacon
1 lb. chopped uncooked beef

1 tsp. salt
1 few grains pepper
1/2 C. ketchup
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Cook cabbage head 30 minutes. Drain, cool, remove center. Mince onion and cook with 2 strips diced bacon until light brown. Add beef, cook 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Fill cabbage with mixture. Bake in a covered casserole in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. Garnish with bacon strips. Serves four.

Fish Baked in Vegetables

2 halibut steaks—1 inch thick (about 4 lbs.)
2 cans condensed vegetable soup (10 1/2 oz.)
3/4 C. melted butter

1 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. scraped onion
1 Tbsp. minced parsley
1 lemon (juice and rind)
2 C. bread crumbs

Mix salt, bread crumbs, onion, parsley, lemon and butter, to make stuffing. Spread this between 2 layers of fish. Cover with condensed vegetable soup. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes on greased oven-proof platter, or on parchment paper or cheese cloth in greased pan if fish must be removed to serve.

See The New Tappan "Visualized Cooking" Demonstrated At The Food Institute

"Visualized Cooking" is the new exacting method of oven cooking made possible by Tappan's two new features — Visualite oven and Visiguide temperature chart. You'll witness this newest mode in cooking demonstrated during the programs of the 1940 Gasco Food Institute. You'll see, also, how the many improved features on modern gas ranges have made cooking vastly easier and cooking results more certain than ever before.

You'll observe the convenience and efficiency of such famous Tappan advantages as Flexo-Speed oven

Same Results In Your Kitchen

These countless time and money saving features of modern gas ranges will bring Food Institute results to your kitchen. A Tappan gas range can be installed now on a convenient payment plan. Inspect a lovely new model for your kitchen now at The Gas Company.

MANY FARMERS OBTAIN LOANS FROM FCA FUND

Claypool Reports Figures
For Last Year Showing
Money Received

11TH DISTRICT CHECKED

Some Of Money Already Being Repaid; Most
Due Later

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—Congressman H. K. Claypool today stated that according to a survey that has just been completed in the 11th Congressional District of Ohio the Farm Security Administration's program during the last year has added $82,113 to the wealth of the communities in which the borrowers reside, and has increased their purchasing power by $42,674.

The survey showed that the 541 standard rehabilitation borrowers in the Eleventh District had an average net income last year of $651.49 per family, as compared with $572.61 in the year before they came to the Farm Security Administration for help. This represents an increase of 14 percent. Moreover, these families increased their average net worth—over and above all debts—by 12 percent since coming on the program.

At the same time the survey showed that a total of $333,954 had been loaned to farm families in the district. Borrowers already have repaid $68,712 into the Federal Treasury as installments. The typical rehabilitation family in the Eleventh District has borrowed $617.29 and already has repaid $127.01. Since much of the money loaned does not fall due for four or five years, there is every reason to expect that the great bulk of it will be repaid.

The Farm Security Administration was created in 1935 to make loans to destitute and low-income farm families and has offices in each of the five county seats in the Eleventh District.

INDUSTRIES INFORMED OF SAFETY CONGRESS

R. C. Jones of the Division of Safety and Hygiene, Industrial Commission of Ohio, was in Circleville Wednesday looking after safety surveys and contacting local industrialists in connection with the eleventh annual session of the All Ohio Safety Congress and Exhibit, to be held at the Deshler-Wallick, Columbus, April 16-17-18, 1940.

"The object of the Congress", said Mr. Jones, "is to gather into conference those charged with accident prevention in industry, with the purpose of exchanging views on safety methods and safe practices that have proven effective in their respective plants and to hear discussions by nationally-known leaders on programs for stimulating safety spirit among employees and on specific accident problems facing the various industrial classifications".

"In addition to general sessions daily, designed to deal abstractly with the problems of industrial safety, there will be sectional meetings for all the major industrial groups, at which discussions will be devoted to the particular problems of each group. Speakers on these various programs include many of the nation's leaders in safety thought and action, who will present the most modern ideas on plans designed to reduce the suffering and sorrow incident to occupational injuries, and at the same time, lighten the economic burden which needless accidents place on both employer and employee."

As a result of routine action by the Civil Service Commission, Frank's salary was upped from $3 to $5.50, although he has not received any pay since September, 1938. At that time he became embroiled with the body over his age and his check has been held up.

GERMAN U-BOAT WAR IN EUROPE REPORTED OFF BOOSTS TRAVEL ECUADOR COAST TO HAWAII AREA

BALBOA, Canal Zone — The United States Naval Intelligence of the Fifteenth Naval District today was investigating reports of the alleged activities of two German submarines in the vicinity of the Galapagos Islands. Naval authorities said they had not yet sent any planes or ships to the Galapagos and would make no move until "definite confirmation" is received.

According to reports received from Guayaquil, Ecuador, residents of Galapagos saw two German subs taking on supplies and fuel from unidentified ships near Sullivan Bay, Galapagos. On January 3 two German Lloyd motorships, the "Quito" and "Bogota," which had been self-interested at Guayaquil, cleared that port and arrived three weeks later at Chilean ports.

Observers at Naval headquarters and also at Guayaquil are

SAN FRANCISCO — With American travel giving war-torn areas a wide berth, Hawaii is finding herself in a highly preferred position, according to the San Francisco office of the U. S. Travel Bureau.

"Ordinarily, there are slack travel periods between seasons, but this year the luxurious ocean liners plying between the Pacific Coast and the Islands are carrying a constant flow of travel, the volume of which is considerably greater than at any time in Hawaii's history," the bureau reported. "Hawaii National Park reports a 15 percent increase in number of visitors registering during the 1940 travel year over the same period last year."

speculating on the possibility that these "feeder" ships may be the ones which are fueling German subs known to be in the Pacific.

HEIDT POPULAR

"Pot 'o Gold" popularity of Horace Heidt and his orchestra has been increasing theatre attendance wherever Heidt's troupe has played in its tour from West to East. For instance, at the Orpheum in Minneapolis, a week of Heidt grossed $19,300. According to The Billboard, an average week's draw at this theatre is $4,400. The same authority notes that in Milwaukee, despite bad weather and strong competition from a civic Home Show, the "Pot 'o Gold" unit drew $13,100 as against the usual $7,000 week for the Riverside Theatre. In the show houses Heidt is using the same troupe that broadcasts each Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. on the NBC-Red network. It includes such celebrated performers as Bobby Hackett, Frankie Carle, the Le Ann Sisters, Larry Cotton, Red Farrington, Art Carney, Bob Knight and the Drane Sisters.

BENNY TO GOTHAM

Jack Benny, the Waukegan wit, invades New York with his entire troupe for two Sunday broadcasts, on April 21 and 28. Trip is being made in conjunction with premiere of Benny's picture, "Buck Benny Rides Again," April 25 at the Paramount Theatre.

"WOMAN OF WEEK"

Mrs. George Whiteman, sponsor of the Whiteman Tennis Trophy, and one-time amateur tennis champion, will be interviewed as "Woman of the Week" on the Phil Spitalny "Hour of Charm" program over the NBC-Red network Sunday, March 31, at 10 p. m.

REVIVAL BY ANDRE

A revival of the once national rage, "The Music Goes 'Round and 'Round," will be offered in a special arrangement by Andre Kostelanetz and his "Tune-Up Time" orchestra over CBS Monday, April 1, at 8 p. m. The conductor will provide direct contrast with a vocal adaptation of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" titled "Bells at Eventide," which will be done by the Kostelanetz chorus. Other numbers are "You Do Something to Me," "So High the Moon," "I'll Take an Option on You," and "The Sky Fell Down." Tony Martin is vocal soloist.

BRIEF RADIO NOTES

Due to the excellent rating of the "Dr. Christian program, featuring Jean Hersholt and Rosemary DeCamp, sponsors are considering continuing the show through the summer season.

NBC-Blue will broadcast the Louis-Paychek world's championship fight on Friday, March 29, 10 p. m. on a coast-to-coast hook-up. One hundred three stations will carry the broadcast.

"Plantation Party" now heard

Fridays on NBC-Blue shifts to a coast-to-coast set-up on NBC-Red beginning Saturday, May 4, 8:30 p. m.

Beginning Tuesday Raymond Gram Swing added thirteen new Mutual stations to his setup.

The maestro of "It Happened in Hollywood" program scooped Hollywood when he was able to persuade Sue Robbin youthful star of "Meet the People," to be on his CBS program Friday, March 29. This is Miss Robbin's first appearance on the radio.

Oscar Levant, Errol Flynn, and Brenda Marshall are set for Music Hall, Thursday; Ann Jamison for the same show April 4; Thomas Mitchell and Edna Best for Silver Theatre in "Broken Destiny" April 7; and Barbara Stanwyck and Robert Taylor for the Screen Guild on March 31.

For his broadcast of March 27, Baker will sing "I'll Be Seeing You," and "Wonderful One." April 3, he will sing "Isle of May."

Smith, Tydings And Johnson Declare Stand Hurting Party's Chances

Louisiana Solon's Speech Brings Other Comment From Washington

WASHINGTON, March 27—Renewed demands on President Roosevelt to reveal his stand on the third term issue were made today by prominent Democrats, amid charges his silence is jeopardizing Democratic success in November.

A flurry of Democratic comment followed the action of Sen. Overton, mild New Dealer from Louisiana, in urging Mr. Roosevelt to propose a constitutional amendment, outlawing a third term for any president. Overton expressed fear that "if the President runs for a third term, he may invite disaster to his party and himself."

Three Democratic senators—"Cotton Ed" Smith, of South Carolina, Tydings of Maryland, and Johnson of Colorado—shared Overton's fears and warned their Democratic colleagues that the President's silence was booming Republican hopes for victory in the coming elections. Smith proposed a series of Democratic rallies throughout the country to repudiate the third term boom for Mr. Roosevelt.

Clark in Action

While Republicans appeared to be harmonizing all differences, a new Democratic flareup broke out in Missouri. Sen. Bennett Clark, abandoning a favorite-son candidacy for the Democratic nomination, called for election of an uninstructed delegation by Missouri Democrats. Opposed to a third term, Clark announced himself a candidate for chairmanship of the delegation and took an indirect slap at Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, a third term advocate.

Writing George K. Williams, a veteran Missouri Democrat, to decline a favorite-son endorsement, Clark said:

"If I am named chairman of the delegation, it will never be traded off for any office or for any purpose... I would not accept either the vice presidency or a cabinet office as a gift."

This statement was interpreted as a slap at Stark, variously mentioned as a candidate for the senate, as a running-mate for Mr. Roosevelt on a third term ticket, and as a potential secretary of the navy in a third term cabinet.

Smith announced he had finally come to the conclusion that "Mr. Roosevelt is not going to run but he likes to be a man of mystery."

Then he added: "It has got where the welfare of the country is jeopardized by his silence. I have been having talks with other senators and suggested a series of meetings all over the country to repudiate this sort of handling of the party. Of course, the real Democratic party has no part in this government now. Real Democrats are not at all a part of this New Deal party."

STARS SAY—

For Wednesday, March 27

AN EXCITING day, with swift-moving events transpiring in all departments of life, is forecast by the lunar and mutual aspects. It is probable that the adventurous and high-tensioned occurrences may be experienced in the realm of the emotions, romantic attachments or love life, where tempest, jealousy, passion and violence are likely to burst all bonds of restraint and prudence. In business impetuosity, strife and aggressiveness may prove detrimental, whereas calmness, consideration and subdued handling would be profitable.

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of a year of high-pressure experiences, with all the energies and faculties under tension and stress to a perilous degree. Romance, emotional urges and all intimate expressions are subject to distress and disturbance because of impulsive and reckless behavior. Business also suffers from want of restraint, cool judgment and discreet management.

short-handed they were on anti-aircraft guns, after the raid, the British actually borrowed 26 of these guns from Belgium.

Real fact is that what the Allies need most are the U. S. plane detector, secret bomb-sight, and anti-aircraft gun-sight. The British have developed nothing comparable to the U. S. airplane detector, which is why the German planes took Scaev Flow by surprise.

It was obvious also from the poor bombing marksmanship over the German island of Sylt that the British have no bomb-sight which comes anywhere near the Americans.

Note—The Allies have not asked for the release of these three important U. S. military and naval inventions.

SIGHTSEER STOKOWSKI

Orchestra leader Leopold Stokowski's famous vacation on the Isle of Capri with Greta Garbo was the subject of quite a controversy at one of the closed-door meetings of the House Appropriations Committee.

Representative John Taber, strait-laced upstate New Yorker, brought it up while the National Youth Administration budget was under consideration. Stokowski is organizing an orchestra of NYA students for a goodwill tour of South America this summer, and Taber charged that the NYA was spending a large sum of money on the project.

Administrator Aubrey Williams quickly disproved this by showing that the NYA had nothing to do with the undertaking except to arrange "tryouts" for orchestra ap-doesn't fire people, especially Cabinet members.

So Jim, secure on all flanks, intends to sit tight until after the convention. What he does then depends on what happens at Chicago.

Inner Circle resentment against Farley's retention of the National Chairmanship, now that he is an avowed White House candidate, is extremely bitter. The New Dealers contend that this is poor sportsmanship and a violation of the spirit of the Hatch Act.

They hold that the National Chairman, with the party organization in his hands, should be an impartial figure. With Jim an active candidate, obviously he can't be impartial. The New Dealers even charge that he is using the party machinery to boost his own campaign.

But Jim indignantly denies this. He replies that other members of the Cabinet, including the President, have their hats in the ring and he doesn't see why he isn't entitled to do likewise.

FEWER RED SCHOOLHOUSES

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The "little red schoolhouse" soon may be only a memory to Pennsylvania school children. Old-style school structures are disappearing at the rate of 300 a year because of consolidations which absorbed 4,000 one-teacher schools into larger schools, the State Department of Public Instruction reported.

FAMILY OF BARBERS

PHILADELPHIA.—The Luongo brothers have the barber business in South Philadelphia just about cut and dried. Five brothers—Gabriel, Daniel, Michael, Pasquale, and Joseph—own shops in this city, while a sixth brother, Emilio, cuts hair in Buenos Aires. Daniel came to America first, and sent for the others one by one as his own shop prospered.

MATES DECLARE THAT MEDWICK HAS SIGNED UP

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 27—Joe Medwick, slugging St. Louis Cardinal outfielder who prolonged his holdout far beyond the customary date, today was reported to have signed a contract for 1940.

The report came from Medwick's Cardinal teammates, but both Medwick and the Cardinal management declined to confirm the report before leaving last night on an exhibition tour which will take them to Cuba.

Medwick had been offered $18,000 and had demanded $20,000 for his services. The report of his signing did not indicate at which figure the asserted agreement had been reached.

HARTNETT CHOOSES HIS OUTFIELD FOR CAMPAIGN

LOS ANGELES, March 27—Chicago Cub Manager Gabby Hartnett, after shifting his outfield for several weeks, today was reported settled on Hank Leiber, Augie Galan and Dominic Dalesandro for these posts. Leiber is the best thrower of the three, and probably also will get the cleanup position in the batting order most of the time.

KLEIN REJOINS PHILS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 27—For the third time in his major league career, Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder, today was on the roster of the Phillies. Released by the Pittsburgh Pirates, Klein signed with the Phils and was due to arrive here in time for this afternoon's game with the St. Louis Cardinals. Manager Doc Prothro was hoping the veteran would add needed batting punch to the Phils' attack.

DIMAG, GORDON OUT

HAINES CITY, Fla., March 27—Before heading into the West for a trip through Texas, the New York Yankees today took on their Kansas City farm team for another training season game. Joe Dimaggio is suffering from a pain in the shoulder and Joe Gordon is also on the sidelines with a lame back.

WOMEN HUNTERS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., — California women hunters last year slew 1,520 deer, or 3.6 percent of the 47,000 deer "harvest" the state bureau of game conservation announced in Sacramento.

Nurmi Says Many Marks To Fall In Sunday Race

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, March 27—Paavo Nurmi today predicted that Taisto Maki would run the fastest 3-mile race ever seen when the young Finn toes the mark against Gregory Rice, Don Lash and Joe McCluskey in Madison Square Garden Sunday night.

Speaking through an interpreter, the old Finnish maestro of the tanbark and cinder path, declared his young charge not only would win the race but would erase from the books world records that Nurmi himself set 15 years ago.

"I'm afraid that my name is going to disappear from the books after Sunday," said the one-time king of distance runners. "I think six of my records, two held by another Finn, Willie Ritola, and one to the credit of Edwin Wide, the Swede, are all going to fall."

Paavo had reference to the intermediate distances between 2,000 meters and three miles. Dan Ferris, director of this track meet of champions, has arranged to have a flock of timers stationed at various points to "catch" the runners as they speed to new records.

The first set of marks due to take a beating are Nurmi's 5:22.4 for 2,000 meters and his 5:34.8 for 1 1/2 miles and Wide's 6:37.8 for 1 1/2 miles. These should fall before the flying feet of Chuck Fenske, Gene Venzke, Ralph Schwartzkopf or Walter Mehl who will meet in a special 1 1/2 mile race.

Seven more world marks will be endangered in the 3-mile run. These are Nurmi's 7:51.4 for 3 1/2 miles; 8:29 for 1 3/4 miles; 10:19 for 2 1/4 miles; 11:30.8 for 4,000 meters; Ritola's 11:45.8 for 2 1/2 miles and 12:57.8 for 2 3/4 miles and finally, Gregory Rice's recent 13:55.9 for the full three miles.

Nurmi shrugged off a suggestion that Rice, rather than Maki, might be the man to set up some new figures because of the little Notre Dame runner's superior finishing drive.

"It may be that Rice is faster than Maki," said Paavo, "but remember, that there is such a thing as running the 'kick' out of a superior sprinter. I used to do that myself."

YOUNG BASEBALL HOPEFULS HAVE CHANCE TO PLAY

PORTSMOUTH, March 27—Aspiring young ball players of this section will be given the opportunity to discover whether or not they have a future in professional ball by attending the spring try-outs to be conducted by the Portsmouth Red Birds, according to an announcement today by Business Manager Mel Jones.

The Portsmouth club, which is operated by the St. Louis Cardinals, will open the camp on Monday, April 15, at Riverside Park here. The first part of the camp will be devoted to trials for young players who have had no previous experience. Later the camp will serve as a spring training site for the Portsmouth Red Birds.

Competent scouts will be on hand to pass judgment on the boys who come for try-outs. Those who show sufficient ability will be offered contracts.

Boys between the ages of 17 and 32 in this section of the country who aspire to play professional baseball are invited to attend, Jones said.

No fee is required of boys attending, Jones explained, but out-of-town boys must finance their trips to Portsmouth and their living expenses while here. Boys are required to bring their own shoes, gloves and uniforms. A try-out for an out-of-town boy will entail a stay in Portsmouth of two to three days. Boys wishing further information about the camp should write Jones care of the Portsmouth ball club.

ETTORE, KAYOED BY MANY, GIVES PAYCHEK CHANCE

By Lawton Carver

NEW YORK, March 27—Al Ettore, who long since has eagerly embraced permanent retirement from the storm and strife of pugilistic warfare, stuck his head out of seclusion at Philadelphia long enough today to insist for the benefit of the writer that Johnny Paychek may knock Joe Louis loose from the heavyweight championship here Friday night.

Ettore was pursued by his lair for his observations on the encounter because he is in the unique position of being the best possible judge of the relative merits of the principals. He was stiffened by both of them.

The sawed-off Philadelphia Italian doesn't regard Paychek as the rank set-up he has been pictured by most of us on the sidelines, and he wouldn't be astounded if a form upheaval occurred when the seeming fiasco begins to unfold at Madison Square Garden. However, what Ettore has to say is more or less qualified by the assertion that Paychek must score a knockout or suffer the consequences in vice versa.

"Paychek is a very smart boxer, he moves around well and he is a wonderful puncher with his right hand," Ettore said. "He is the only fighter who has a chance to knock Louis out in a couple of rounds—and he may do it. If he doesn't, then Louis will win by a knockout. Louis hits hard with either hand."

NEED FOR COOPERATION BETWEEN SMALL CITIES STRESSED

C. OF C. URGED TO PUT EFFORT ON FARM WORK

INDUSTRIES DISCUSSED

Fight For Retention Of Business Cited As Important

Calling for closer cooperation between the small towns of central and southern Ohio and pointing out the need for the towns to find a common basis on which to meet and work, James Wells, manager of the Logan Chamber of Commerce, told the members of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce at its meeting in the American Hotel Tuesday evening that more can be accomplished by a strong block in Columbus by "horse-trading than by speech making."

"If the communities of this area find a common basis and work closely with their representatives in the legislature, regardless of party, then they will gain a powerful voice and be able to accomplish the things that can and should be done in this section of the state," Wells remarked.

"The problem of the small town today," he said, "is not the search for new industry and business, but the problem of making the community interesting enough to hold its own business."

Normal Area Disappears

"The whole thing is the result of a natural evolution of the paved road. The once normal trading area is disappearing as buyers find it easy to travel into Columbus or any other big town nearby."

Wells didn't preclude new business. The search for new business should supplement rather than take precedence over the fight for the retention of old business. Towns remain small because the men in the towns do not have the outlook to make them big.

He urged the Circleville Chamber of Commerce to get greater agricultural representation on the board of directors and in the membership. Stressing the fact that Hocking County has a poor agricultural foundation, he remarked that it is that very reason why the Chamber should interest itself in building what agriculture there is.

"Hocking County is trying to build up an adverse agricultural situation; Pickaway County should try to perpetuate a good situation. You have some of the best soil under the blue sky and should do all that is possible to aid the farmer and bring them closer to the city and the community," he said.

Help Rather Than Direct

Directing his speech toward industry, Wells said the Chamber of Commerce should attempt to work with industry to help solve the problems rather than attempt to direct and determine the policies that industry should follow. But no one industry should be dominant to the point where it directs all others and dictates policy.

As a parallel, he remarked that no town should follow one fixed policy. The only policy to which a town should bind itself fast, is that of making it a better place to live for the average man and woman. He questioned the value of a low wage industry to any town and said that communities would fare better without them.

The task of the Chamber of Commerce should be to build a whole-some civic spirit which should include the schools, churches, recreation, housing and anything that would make the town a better place to live. The duty of the Chamber of Commerce is not to the individual, but to the community.

Stressing once more the need for closer cooperation between the towns, he urged the Circleville Chamber to realize that it is the gateway to southern Ohio lying on Routes 23, 22 and 56. It is not a question of just developing Hocking County, he said, but rather all the counties in this section.

Ohio is the bottleneck through which all the east-west traffic flows and the state should capitalize on that fact, he concluded.

Membership Sought

Following the address by Wells, Ray Rowland, president of the Circleville Chamber, announced that a general meeting will be held the fourth Tuesday of each month. He also urged a determined drive for membership.

The Board of Directors met following the conclusion of the meeting and discussed the possibility of bringing new industry to Circleville. Two firms whose names were not disclosed will be approached in the near future with such a step in view.

TWIN CALVES, RARITY OF SPRING, ARE REPORTED

One of the rarities of spring was reported Wednesday by Richard Byers, tenant on the farm of Mrs. Charles Gilmore in Wayne Township. Twin bull calves were born Tuesday to a Jersey cow on the Gilmore property. Both are doing well, Byers reported.

Play of Junior Class Ready for Presentation

After several weeks of intensive rehearsal, the Junior Class of Circleville High School is ready to present its play, "June Mad." The talent of the class will be paraded Thursday and Friday evenings, March 28 and 29.

Samuel R. Johnson, director, has made the following selection of characters for the comedy in which several members of the cast will perform on different nights:

Penny Wood, Norma Jean Brown on Thursday and Rose Anne Griner, Friday.

Chuck Harris, James Callihan on Thursday and Lloyd Jones, Friday.

Mrs. Wood, Marjorie Friece on Thursday and Mary K. Pile, Friday.

Elmer Tuttle, William Thornton, Doctor Wood, Charles Mumaw, Effie, Peggy Goeller, Milly Lou, Mary Schreiner, G. Mervyn Roberts, Leland Siegwald.

Rober Van Vleck, Paul Turner, Mr. Harris, George Skaggs on Thursday and Jack Beck, Friday.

Shirley Wentworth, Helen Beck.

Ralph Wentworth, Lloyd Jones on Thursday and James Callihan, Friday.

Julie Harris, Doris Waters on Thursday and Mary Adele Snider, Friday.

Mr. Johnson has called a dress rehearsal for Wednesday evening. This comedy, based on the novel, "This Awful Age," was written by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements. It is produced by special arrangement with Samuel French.

Richard Sheridan Ames in "Script" writes: "The obvious thing to say about 'June Mad,' the new comedy by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements, which reduced its audience to a state of laughter-limp and pop-off-the-vest-buttons merriment, is that the observant authors know more about America's adolescents than anyone else since Booth Tarkington."

ONE of the outstanding features of the program of the 1940 Cooking School are the sensational "Magic Mirrors" which make possible almost unbelievable clear visualization of all cooking demonstrations by the audience. Homemakers in attendance at the first session were high in their praise of this dramatic innovation. Two "Magic Mirrors" are used, one which mirrors all cooking done on the top of the range and the other which depicts the activity of the Food Lecturer on the main preparation table in the center of the stage. Above is pictured this "Magic Mirror" showing the Food Lecturer at work at the table. This and many other features make the 1940 Institute bigger and better than ever. Other sessions will be presented tomorrow and Friday beginning each afternoon at 2 o'clock. Admission is free to all.

MERCURY MOVES UP TO 40 MARK TUESDAY NIGHT

With all the tricks that the weather has been playing in recent weeks, including the fall from Indian summer a week ago to the below freezing weather of this week, the nearest trick was reported by the weather bureau Wednesday.

The high temperature of Tuesday was 40. The low temperature of Wednesday was 40. Instead of taking the nightly plunge Tuesday, the temperature just did the reverse of the old play and rose to 40, threatened to go to 41, and then settled itself comfortably at the 40-degree mark.

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS COOKING SCHOOL SESSION

Many New Ideas Provided By Miss Esther Roehm, Food Lecturer

Despite intermittent showers, a large crowd of enthusiastic Circleville and Pickaway County housewives filled Memorial Hall Wednesday to witness the initial performance of the 1940 Cooking School being presented for three days by The Daily Herald and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. From the dramatic opening until the final delicious serving was completed and displayed in the revolving picture frame, the program was packed full of new ideas presented in a manner that kept the audience highly entertained at all times.

Miss Esther Roehm, food lecturer, gave an unusually fine performance as did her assistant, Miss Dorothy Duncan.

As the title indicates, "Life Begins At Breakfast" placed special emphasis on the preparation and serving of that important meal which is so often sadly neglected in the modern home. Many unusual breakfast dishes were prepared with the speed and accuracy made possible by modern kitchen equipment. Homemakers in attendance came away with countless new ideas about serving breakfast.

Second Day Program

One of the outstanding features of the program was the use of "Magic Mirrors" to better visualize the cooking demonstrations to the audience. This feature will be continued through the remaining programs of the Institute.

Another extremely interesting program is in store for homemakers Thursday when "Meal of the Day" will be presented. This session covers the preparation and serving of the main meal of the day, offering a score of new suggestions for dishes and menus for the dinner meal.

Entertaining dramatic skits again will enliven the program. As a special attraction, the Cooking School Manager will prepare some delicious servings as a part of one of these skits. This program is of special interest to men as well as women and a capacity crowd is expected.

More Free Prizes

Another long list of merchandise and food prizes will be given away during tomorrow's program. The session begins promptly at 2 p. m. in Memorial Hall. Admission is free to all.

Patrol Boat Blast Kills Sailor, Hurts Six Others

NEWPORT, R. I., March 27—A naval inquiry into the mysterious blast on board the United States neutrality patrol destroyer King was under way today as shipmates sought the body of one sailor, believed to have been blown into the sea, while six of his mates lay injured in Naval Hospital.

Captain William S. Faber, patrol commander, said the blast occurred in a deckhouse used as a chemical storeroom. He added it appeared to have been started by gas generated by the chemicals, the gas becoming ignited in some unknown manner.

NINE DEAD, MORE BODIES HUNTED AS HOUSE FALLS

SANTA ROSA, Cal., March 27—In search of additional possible victims, rescue workers today continued clearing the wreckage of a warehouse which collapsed near Santa Rosa late yesterday, crushing to death nine persons.

Weakened by a rain storm and the weight of 270 tons of stored prunes, the building's stilt-like supports gave way. The nine known victims—an unidentified white man and eight Indians, two of whom were women, had sought refuge from the wind and rain.

COURT TO HEAR SUIT FOR DAMAGES OF $6,000

The case of Stanley Frazier vs. Clifton Reedy in which the plaintiff asks $6,000 damages has been set down to be heard before a jury in the Common Pleas Court Thursday, April 4.

Frazier, who was riding in a truck driven by Ernest Barr on August 2, 1939 was returning to Circleville when the truck collided with a car driven by Clifton Reedy of Columbus. The accident happened two miles north of South Bloomfield on Route 23.

Frazier, who was taken to Berger Hospital in Circleville following the crash, accuses Reedy in his petition of negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle. Bone fractures and lacerations kept Frazier at the hospital for several weeks.

Reedy, who was traveling northward, is accused of driving on the left side of the road, swaying back and forth across the center line and forcing Barr to drive off the road. The petition also states that Reedy drove at a greater rate of speed than is in accordance with safety.

Bruises were suffered by Barr while Reedy was unhurt.

Powers Ready To Invest Billion In American Aircraft

WASHINGTON, March 27—Denying that military secrets will be released, Secretary of War Harry Woodring today told the house military affairs committee that the latest and best American military planes will be sold to the Allies.

Defending the policy, he also revealed that orders for the army will be delayed as a result of foreign sales.

The war secretary, indirectly referring to rumors that he is in conflict with President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau on foreign plane sales said "I'm not easily pushed around."

Appearing in response to fears expressed in congress that the American defense expansion program will be hampered, Woodring insisted that sales of airplanes for warring nations will promote our own national defense.

He said: "No military secret will be divulged or released to any foreign purchaser of military airplanes."

"Neither designs owned by the War Department nor manufacturers—designs over which the War Department has control, will be released for manufacture or detail assembly abroad."

"Foreign governments must agree to furnish us full and complete information on the design, equipment and combat performance of American made planes."

MORE OF SCUTTLED NAZI SHIP'S CREW LEAVE U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27—Fourteen crew members of the scuttled German liner Columbus were to embark today on a projected homeward journey.

Sailing to Siberia on the Japanese liner Tatuta Maru, the seamen—third detachment of the original 512 held at the Angel Island immigration station—will attempt to reach Germany by way of the trans-Siberian railroad. The previous groups, one of 35 men and the other of 14, sailed recently on Italian ships. This will leave 449 Nazi sailors at Angel Island.

Captain Fritz Wiedemann, German consul general at San Francisco, said all of the men departing today "are sick and unfit for military service."

SEVERE EARTH SHOCKS FELT ON SEISMOGRAPH

NEW YORK, March 27—Two severe earth shocks, estimated to have occurred about 4,500 miles from New York, were recorded today at Fordham University. The first shock was registered at 7:42 a. m. and the second at 7:51.

PITTSBURGH, March 27—The University of Pittsburgh seismograph recorded two earth shocks today, estimated to have occurred at 7:22 a. m. some 8,000 miles distant.

The shocks were recorded on the Pitt instrument at 7:42:06 and 7:50:48 a. m. Donald C. Bradford, university seismologist, said he could not be certain but believed the shocks originated in the Southwest.

GRANGERS FINISH CORN HUSKING AT DRESBACH'S

Twenty-five Scioto Valley Grangers gathered Tuesday at the farm of Clifton Dresbach, north of South Bloomfield, to finish husking the farm's corn crop. Mr. Dresbach has been seriously ill for several weeks.

The grangers took their lunches with them and repaired to the grange hall, north of Ashville, at noon. Several of the women had preceded the "good samaritans" to the grange hall and had prepared hot coffee and baked beans.

Boy Feared Shot Hunted

Rifle Found After Young Brother Tells Story Of Chase

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 27—Discovery of a high-compression air rifle in a 10-foot snowdrift spurred weary searchers today in their hunt for a missing eight-year-old boy whose younger brother blurted out a story that created fear of a possible slaying.

When last seen yesterday afternoon eight-year-old Kenneth Averill was dashing through deep snow while an older boy, carrying the high-powered rifle, chased him, the missing boy's six-year-old brother told his parents and authorities.

Since then police, aided by Boy Scouts and volunteers, have searched snow-buried Ellison Park and fishermen's shacks on Rondoquoit Bay in vain for little Kenneth. The hunt, pressed throughout the night with the aid of searchlights mounted on trucks, continued today under the direction of Sheriff Al Skinner of Monroe County.

Kenneth's younger brother, William, did not know the name of the armed boy who chased his missing brother but estimated his age at about 16 years.

Shortly after he told of Kenneth's flight William led his father, Neil R. Averill, and neighbors to the spot where the rifle, wrapped in papers, was pulled from a snowbank into which it apparently had been thrust deliberately.

The frantic father and a score of neighbors shoveled the high snow for six hours in a vain attempt to find Kenneth. With the temperature hovering around 25 degrees, Sheriff Skinner expressed doubt whether Kenneth, if he had fallen or been pushed into a snowbank with bullet wounds, would be found alive.

MOTHER FOLLOWS SON

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 27—Despondent over the death of her son, Jules Yon, 16-year-old Atlantic City High School football player who died after five months in an iron lung, Mrs. Martha Yon ended her life today by hanging.

Bricker Tries to Find Missing Orrville Youth

ORRVILLE, O., March 27—In the belief that Melvin Horst, missing for 12 years, is still alive, an investigator for the State Welfare department worked today under the direction of Gov. John W. Bricker on the mystery of the boy's disappearance when he was four years old.

Nephew of Roy Horst, who was a town marshal at the time, Melvin was believed to have been kidnapped December 27, 1928, by a bootlegging gang in reprisal against Horst's liquor raiding activities.

The Welfare Department investigator, who was not named, has been at work on the case continuously for the last several months, it was learned. Mayor C. Wylie William said he also had been inquiring into the case for nearly three years and he said that "we know more about the case now than has ever been known before."

Beyond that he would make no comment.

Investigation of the case when it broke resulted in the conviction of Elias Arnold and his son, Arthur, but they later gained a new trial and were acquitted.

The FBI has been prevented from entering the case because the

'Dictation' Hit by Cotton Ed

Governor Rivers

Senator Smith

Senator Bailey

THE momentary arrest of Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia by federal authorities on a contempt of court citation is labelled an example of "federal dictation" by United States Senator Ellison (Cotton Ed) Smith of South Carolina and Senator Josiah Bailey of North Carolina, both Democrats. Rivers was cited for contempt when he ignored a court order to reestablish W. L. Miller as chairman of the state highway board after Rivers had had Miller forcibly removed from office.

BRITISH REPORT LOSS OF THREE MORE STEAMERS

LONDON, March 27—The 5,742-ton British oil tanker Daghestan was sunk in the North Sea on Sunday with the loss of four members of its crew, who were drowned, it was revealed today. Sixteen survivors were rescued.

Authorities also revealed that the 6,574-ton British steamer Castlemore was overdue on a voyage from the United States. It was presumed the vessel was lost with all hands.

INDUSTRIAL EMPLOYMENT ABOVE FEBRUARY IN 1939

COLUMBUS, March 27—Although Ohio's industrial employment declined slightly in February, it was still nine percent above the February, 1939, figure, the Ohio State University Bureau of Business Research announced today.

Declines were recorded in Akron, Cleveland, Canton, Toledo and Youngstown while slight gains were noticeable in Cincinnati and Dayton.

HEAVY GUNFIRE RESUMES ALONG WESTERN FRONT

LONDON, March 27—A sharp encounter between British and Nazi planes over French soil yesterday in which two German and one British craft were shot down was disclosed officially today.

The British patrol encountered a squadron of nine German fighters near Metz, the announcement stated. Two of the German planes were shot down in flames, and one British ship was lost, the pilot escaping by parachute.

PARIS, March 27—Continuous heavy artillery fire on the Western Front, especially between the Moselle and Nied Rivers, and intensive activity were reported in dispatches from the battle zone today.

Heavy guns roared all day yesterday, the reports said, while (Continued on Page Three)

RYTI REMAINS AS HEAD OF FINNISH GOVERNMENT

HELSINKI, March 27—Still under the leadership of Premier Risto Ryti, a new government was formed in Finland today.

The shake-up had been anticipated. Ryti's previous government had as its chief aim the negotiation of peace with Soviet Russia.

Foreign Minister V. A. Tanner was replaced by Rolf Johan Witting, who served as an assistant in the ministry from 1933 to 1936. Tanner, however, remained in the cabinet as minister of public welfare.

Other key members of the new Ryti government are Baron Ernst Von Born, minister of home affairs, who formerly was minister without portfolio; Major General Carl Rudolf Walden, defense minister; M. Peikkala, finance minister.

The agricultural ministry will be shared by P. V. Heikkinen and J. Kolvisto.

MUCH JUICE; NO HURT

CINCINNATI, March 27—Although he was hurled eight feet through space when he touched wires carrying 15,000 volts of electricity, Robert Hughes, 20, went about his duties today with only minor burns to show for his unusual experience. The accident occurred at the Sage Institute of Neon where Hughes is a student.

MOSCOW CALLS ATTACHE AFTER PARIS PROTESTS

Newspapers Demand Break After Ambassador's Telegram Is Read

EXPULSION THREATENED

Britain Continues Tight Blockade Despite Anger Voiced By Norway

By International News Service
Growing diplomatic hostility between Soviet Russia and France reached a new and advanced stage today as Moscow announced the recall of Jacob Suritz, Soviet ambassador to Paris, at the request of the French government.

A lengthy Russian communique said that Suritz "no longer is considered persona grata by the French government," which demanded his recall because of a telegram he addressed to Josef Stalin in connection with the Russo-Finnish peace agreement.

Passages in the telegram referring to "Anglo-French war instigators," and "sinister schemes" of "enemies of socialism" caused the French government to demand Suritz's recall, the Russian announcement said.

In Paris, where officials remained silent for the time being, newspapers called for rupture of Russo-French diplomatic relations. But a high source told International News Service that recall of the ambassador "does not imply a rupture of diplomatic relations."

France informed Moscow that Suritz would be expelled unless he were recalled, French informants revealed.

Incident "Unfortunate"

Soviet embassy circles in London regarded the newest Russo-French incident as "unfortunate" but said they expected no repercussions in London and no change in Anglo-Russian ambassadorial relations. The Russian ambassador to London is still home on leave.

According to the London Daily Express, the French move in no way implies similar action by Britain.

In London, Scandinavian quarters hoped for some method to put teeth into the Norwegian protest to London against a "gross violation" of Norway's neutrality by a British destroyer, which was said to have fired a shell that landed on Norwegian soil while attempting to halt a German vessel near the Norwegian coast.

Possibility of some anti-British counter-action unless London's reply to the protest is satisfactory was under discussion. At the same time, there were indications that Germany might try to smash the British naval blockade against shipments to the Reich from Scandinavia.

More intense activity continued along the Western Front, according to Paris, which reported heavy artillery fire and considerable patrol activity. French patrols were said to have penetrated deep into German lines, obtaining important information.

COLLEGE FROWNS ON 'HONEYMOON MANSION'

BERKELEY, Cal., March 27—The consensus of eminent psychologists and sociologists today opposed the University of California's proposed "honeymoon mansion."

Ten couples of married students had planned to reduce living expenses by leasing a large house near the campus.

"The plan has great possibilities economically but it is dangerous emotionally," declared Henry M. Grant of the university's Family Relation Center.

"There is bound to be jealousy and thoughts of mate stealing. Many may be attracted to the wrong people and people will at least imagine things."

"It's hard enough to get along with one woman." Meanwhile, the 16 married couples and their student husbands, unabashed by the critics, went ahead with their plans to live in close harmony.

NATIONAL GUARD UNITS EXPECT TREK TO NORTH

Training This Summer To Be
For Three Weeks Instead

TENTATIVE DATES NOTED

War Maneuvers To Center
Wisconsin

Circleville's two Ohio National Guard units are awaiting definite instructions concerning their 1940 training activities. The units, including service battery and medical detachment, usually train at Fort Knox, Ky. and Camp Perry, O., but the War Department has announced that all training will be done in Wisconsin this year and that instead of the usual 15-day trips the guardsmen will participate in maneuvers for three weeks.

Officers of the service battery unit expect to be assigned to Sparta, Wisconsin, leaving Circleville on August 8 and returning September 4. Since the outfit is a service unit it will be assigned to the field of maneuvers ahead of other outfits in order to prepare the camp site for other units to follow.

The service battery is a part of the 136th Field Artillery which also includes battery groups from Dayton and Columbus although the Circleville unit is the largest with 89 men. Dayton has 26 and Columbus four, the latter being administrative officers. The Circleville unit must reach a strength of 46 men.

It is commanded by Captain William V. Miller of Columbus. The medical outfit, headed by Captain Ruppersberg, also of Columbus, has not received its instructions either although its members expect to leave Circleville August 11.

The maneuvers, which will center at Camp Monroe, Wisconsin, from August 11 to 31, will be the most extensive since the World War. Ten thousand Ohio National Guardsmen will be among those participating.

Neither local unit expects to have its definite instructions until shortly before time to start the trip to Wisconsin.

FIVE NAZIS ON WAY TO AMERICA TO WIN BUSINESS

LONDON, March 27—The London Daily Sketch said today that a German mission of five men is en route to the United States via Russia for the purpose of influencing American business in favor of the Reich.

The paper said passages booked by the Germans aboard the Italian liner Conte Di Savoia were cancelled at the last moment when it was learned that the British would search the vessel for them at the Gibraltar control port.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

The motion picture treatment of Rudyard Kipling's most famous novel, "The Light That Failed," opens Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre, with as impressive a cast as has ever graced a movie.

The ever-popular Ronald Colman plays the role of handsome Dick Helder, swashbuckler, artist and war reporter, cast in the heroic mold as only Kipling could cast a hero, who for almost two generations was the heart-interest of girls and women throughout the world.

The role of Torpenhow, soldier-of-fortune and war correspondent, who "fathered" the rapscallion Helder and made him the sensation of London, is played by Walter Huston, veteran of many outstanding motion picture dramas and Broadway productions, the latest of which was "Knickerbocker Holiday," one of New York's outstanding recent stage productions.

KENNEDY CITES HARMONY NEED OF DEMOCRATS

NORWALK, March 27—The only real issue before Ohio Democrats this year is "peace and harmony and victory in November," according to William J. Kennedy, of Cleveland, one of eight candidates seeking his party's gubernatorial nomination.

In a speech at a Jackson Day dinner last night, Kennedy urged Huron County Democrats to back a candidate who could win next fall.

"To nominate a man who can't be elected in November puts butter on no man's bread," Kennedy, former secretary of state, said.

"Ohio Democrats cannot afford the luxury of muddling or squabbling," he continued, "to rely on fate and a national ticket to pull them through."

"We cannot fail to consider the fact that Senator Vic Donahey, Ohio Democracy's best vote getter, will be missing from the ballot this fall. There is no guarantee that President Roosevelt, who undoubtedly could carry Ohio by a gigantic majority, will be a candidate for re-election."

Kennedy said if he won the nomination, he would "take care" of Bricker in the fall campaign. He intimated he would lead the battle against the Republican administration.

HIGH SCHOOL BANS BRIDES

BUTTE, Mont.—Widows, brides and divorcees are barred from attending Butte high schools through a ruling recently made by the city school board. The board claimed that such students "do not materially profit from high school attendance" and "in many instances have exerted a bad influence on other girls of the school."

gamin whom Helder befriends, only to have her turn on him in what is one of the strongest climactic scenes in modern literature, is portrayed by beautiful Ida Lupino, while the part of Maisie, the girl he loved, is played by a beauty new to the screen—lovely Muriel Angelus, of the New York stage.

RICH GOLD MINE FOUND IN HILLS NEAR PHOENIX

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 27—An abandoned Spanish gold mine of "unbelievable wealth" has been located in the Superstition mountains east of Phoenix, it was announced today by a mining engineer and a writer-adventurer.

The discovery, said Walter Upson, mining engineer, and Barry Storm, writer, was made by three prospectors in the vicinity of the legendary "Lost Dutchman" mine, said to hold untold wealth and sought after for nearly 50 years by hundreds of prospectors.

Upson said the old Spanish mine was apparently worked in the early 1800's, and contained evidences of high producing lode. It contains old timbering, is a cave-like excavation and is honey-combed with tunnels. Ox-cart trails are still visible, he said.

WAR SECRETARY SAYS U. S. WILL ASSIST ALLIES

Latest Equipment To Be Provided To Britain And France

cy but a highly desirable policy for the government to accept later delivery dates for certain planes in order to secure the advantage of 'change orders' which will give our air corps improved equipment.

Woodring further asserted: "Development of plane types is today so rapid that the acceptance of certain models now being manufactured, involves the possibility of our air corps receiving in quantity types which would soon be surpassed in performance by later models."

He denied that foreign orders have either delayed War Department purchases it wishes to make or has increased the cost.

Congress, Woodring revealed, may be asked to permit extension of the program under which it was planned to expand the air corps to 5,500 planes by June 30, 1941. This would be done, he indicated, by making appropriations available over a longer period.

LONDON, March 27.—Action of the French government in demanding recall of Jacob Suritz, Russian ambassador to Paris, is regarded by British diplomatic quarters as the result of a personal offense by the ambassador, the London Daily Express said today. The paper said the action does not necessarily mean that Russo-French diplomatic relations will be broken off, and in no way implies similar action on the part of Great Britain.

The Germans launched a few attacks against French outposts but these were repulsed.

The French also sent out a number of patrols and some of these penetrated deep into the German lines, bringing back important information, it was claimed.

French planes carried out reconnaissance and photographic flights but no aerial combats developed. German pursuit planes flew over the French lines, apparently concentrating their observations on the Saar Region. The German observation flights ranged from three to thirteen planes.

TRUCKER FACES CHARGES AFTER FOUR BOYS DIE

SANDUSKY, O., March 27.—Second degree manslaughter charges were placed today against Harold M. Malott, 24, of Bradner, O., in connection with a traffic accident early Monday that cost the lives of four Cleveland youths.

Malott, who had been held for questioning since the accident, was charged with failing to operate his truck so it could be stopped without the required distance; driving without regard for the safety of others, and driving at a high rate of speed.

He was to be arraigned later today.

Malott was driving a truck owned by the Libbie Stock Farms when it crashed into the rear of a coupe carrying six Cleveland youths to a CCC camp at Attica. The coupe was demolished and four of the boys instantly killed.

Joseph Mazur is in a hospital with several fractured vertebra and is not expected to live. The driver of the coupe, Kenneth Millheim, escaped with bruises and lacerations.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—

President Roosevelt today began to explore federal relief requirements for the fiscal year 1941 preliminary to making specific recommendations to congress.

In his annual budget message last January, the President said most people felt relief expenditures should not fall below $1,300,000,000 and promised to give congress a later and more specific estimate of needs.

WPA Administrator F. C. Harrington and Budget Director Harold Smith were called into a White House conference today as the President began to assemble his facts.

The presidential special message will deal specifically with WPA requirements, for which the house appropriations committee as yet has no estimates beyond the rough over-all figure contained in the January budget message. Congress already has decided to allot the CCC $230,000,000 and the National Youth Administration $85,000,000 for the 1941 fiscal year. Farm Credit Administration will get approximately $123,000,000.

SUPERIORITY

THE world learns from Adolf Hitler the revolutionary doctrine that a "superior people" has a right, by virtue of its superiority, to do as it pleases with an "inferior" nation or race. Thus the German Nazis hold themselves blameless, and even praiseworthy, when they do what they have done to Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Unenlightened observers in other countries might think that such procedure was plain murder, robbery, arson and calculated cruelty, and that what the conquerors are now doing to the native survivors in those countries is barbarous. But not so! The outsiders who criticize the Nazis for their acts are themselves not enlightened enough to grasp the principles of this ideology. The Nazis alone are civilized and right, and it is their mission to make universal the principles they profess.

And if they succeeded, Americans and most other nations think, it would certainly be a hell of a world.

We do not believe that the old ethics of honesty, decency and human brotherhood are outmoded. We still cling to considerable areas of morality and religion.

What Hitler and his crew of civilization-wreckers profess seems like a combination of primitive tribal nonsense and Nietzsche's crazy doctrine of the anarchistic "Superman."

Nietzsche taught that Might Makes Right. We Americans turn that around. We still cling, in spite of considerable disillusionment, to the Christian and Hebrew and Buddhist and Stoic principle that Right Makes Might.

And we still think that "superior people" are not those who rob and kill their neighbors, but those who help their neighbors.

BAD MAN'S LUCK

IT was cruel, the trick that fate played on Melvin Biesemer of Minneapolis. Melvin decided to be a bold, bad man. He would go forth and challenge society and get a break for himself. So he stuck a sawed-off shotgun in his right trouser leg and started out to make the world deliver.

When Melvin saw a place called "Right Spot Cafe" he took it for a good omen. He swaggered in and yelled, "This is a stick-up!" At the same moment he thrust his good right hand into his belt to jerk out the shotgun. But the plaguey gun stuck, and while he was struggling to draw it somebody jumped onto him, and in the mix-up the gun went off with a tremendous

WOODRING TALKS OF RESIGNING

WASHINGTON—For a long time now the Inner Circle has been pulling and pushing to bounce genial little Harry Woodring out of the Cabinet. And where everything else has failed, it now looks as if the question of selling U. S. airplane secrets to the Allies might do the trick.

As Secretary of War, Harry is opposed to the sale. He even goes considerably further. At a dinner party he told Kansas friends that he feared the President was edging the country into the European mess, and that he, Woodring, might have to resign in protest.

Roosevelt, on the other hand, favors selling the Allies the latest model U. S. airplanes, and selling them as quickly as possible. Assistant Secretary of War Johnson feels the same way and so does Secretary of the Navy Edison, son of the famed inventor. He says that no invention remains secret long, and the French and British might as well help us perfect them.

One secret airplane type which the Allies want to buy is the P-46, a new pursuit plane in which the United States lifted certain ideas from the Germans, particularly a two-foot lower fuselage which cuts down wind resistance.

Roosevelt and Johnson feel that if we took this idea from the Germans, there is no reason why the British can't do the same (except for the time element), and that we can perfect better planes by building for the French and British.

Another new plane which the Allies are eyeing covetously is the P-38, a Lockheed pursuit plane with a twin Allison motor. In this case, the Germans took over some ideas from us. They built two similar types, the Messerschmidt 112, which was a failure, and the Messerschmidt 111, which is excellent and makes 389 miles per hour using a supercharger.

Meanwhile the Lockheed P-38 makes 381 miles per hour without using a supercharger, which when added adds about 39 miles of speed.

At present, the plane itself is not secret, but the supercharger is. If the British buy the plane alone they get a ship which goes eight miles slower than the new German Messerschmidt. But if they can buy the secret supercharger, the speed will be about 30 miles faster than the Germans. So some high-placed Army men believe the supercharger should be sold to them.

BRITISH FAILURE

Allied censors have tried to suppress it, but British aviation has fallen far short of expectations. The raid over Sylt was a miserable failure, most of the bombs hitting only the sand.

Also the British were caught completely napping when the Nazis raided Scapa Flow. British anti-aircraft guns were late in getting into action, while British pursuit planes did not get into the air until the Germans had started home. Showing how roar. Melvin swooned. And when he came to, somebody was sitting on him and the cops were arriving.

How humiliating!

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—

Charles F. Stewart

IN CONNECTION with war conditions, English newspapers have been saying some rather disagreeable things about Uncle Sam lately and American newspapers have been reciprocating as to John Bull and his ways. Officially there is nothing amiss except that Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy has been quoted as reporting to President Roosevelt that the London government has badly bungled its diplomacy since even before actual hostilities developed. Neither governmental Washington nor London has taken any notice of the mutually increasing unpleasantness of press comment, however, nor has the British foreign office paid any attention to Ambassador Kennedy's reported utterances to the White House—though English editorial writers have been decidedly vocal on the latter subject.

All this isn't to say that American sentiment is believed to be switching pro-Britishward or pro-Stalinward or that it's switching at all emphatically in the direction of anti-Britishness or anti-Frenchness.

Nevertheless, Washington senses a developing Yankee feeling that the British (not so much the French) incline to impose considerably upon American good nature in managing the anti-German blockade. Maybe the French would do it, too, if they had Britain's sea-strength to "get away with it," but they haven't; so J. Bull is the individual principally criticized.

For instance, Uncle Sam doesn't like British interference with his

overseas mails. He doesn't like undue delay of his merchant vessels for contraband overhauling at Britishly-controlled ports, or the forcible British steering of such vessels into dangerous waters. He doesn't like having his exports and imports, in neutral craft, Britishly supervised. He doesn't like having British cruisers disregarding our Pan-American neutrality zone.

There's no question about these objections, because our state department has specifically expressed them in formal communications to London.

But John Bull's navy pays no attention to these mild representations, and the state department hesitates to put them in the form of vigorous protests or warnings, not desiring to risk an out-and-out strain on British-American relations.

PRESS RESENTMENT

American popular sentiment, though, appears to be getting pretty resentful—not belligerent, but quite "huffy." And the American press reflects it.

The English press, in turn, resents the American press' resentment.

Its attitude is, "Well, you Americans sympathize with us, don't you, against Nazi-ism?"

The answer is, "Yes, with the qualification that we're neutral." This makes the English editorial writers sorer than ever. "We take it then," they say, "that you fellows want us to fight for world democracy, including yours, but you won't stand on every little technicality against us." They also rake up the old story that the United States, after the last war, expected the Allies to pay what they owed to us. They didn't do it, but they still realize that we originally thought they would.

Consequently, Uncle Samuel again is referred to as "Uncle Shylock."

Isn't this enough to make any American hot under the collar? The state department restrains itself, but some of our newspapers show a good bit of temper. At that, they haven't said anything nearly as disagreeable as some of the English papers have said about us.

IN PARENTHESIS

Paraphrasing: Nobody doubts that the Germans would have been as unceremonious with us as the British have been—only they haven't enough of a navy.

All they've been able to do is a little pocketbattleship poaching in our neutrality zone—but on too small a scale to amount to much. And they've scuttled a few of their blockade-runners within our waters. If they choose to scuttle some of their own craft, what do we care!

As to Ambassador Kennedy, it may have been undiplomatic of him to say that Prime Minister Chamberlain has bungled Britain's foreign relationships worse than Fuehrer Hitler has done since pre-war days up to date, but it's hard to deny that he's done so.

Attacking Stomach Ills With Aluminum

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

From a reader: "I understand that aluminum is now being used to treat stomach ailments. What about the theory that it causes cancer?"

Yes, aluminum hydroxide has been used for four or five years in the treatment of ulcer of the stomach and acid dyspepsia. It has proved to be one of the most effective anti-acids that we have because it neutralizes excessive acid in the stomach which is present in ulcer, and it does not have any of the disagreeable features of other drugs. It does not cause alkalosis, as sodium bicarbonate sometimes does; it does not cause diarrhea, as magnesium oxide sometimes does, and it does not cause constipation, as bismuth sometimes does.

It controls spasms and pain of the stomach. I know a number of people with ulcer, who carry aluminum hydroxide jelly around with them and take it as patients used to take tablets of alkali, such as sodium bicarbonate and magnesium oxide. Severe cases of ulcer are treated very satisfactorily with this medicine.

There is no danger of its causing cancer and there never was. The campaign that aluminum cooking utensils cause cancer is a piece of "scare the public" propaganda, thoroughly ignorant and vicious, in which there is not a word of truth.

Solving Problems

About the Teeth

I have received a number of questions about crooked and irregular teeth:

"What causes crooked and irregular teeth?" Diseased tonsils and enlarged adenoids, too early extraction of temporary teeth, insufficient exercise and habits such as thumb sucking. In many cases the teeth grow in crooked without any known cause.

"How are crooked teeth straightened?" By an appliance which stimulates growth and guides teeth into proper position. The dental specialty which deals with this is called orthodontia.

"What is the best age for starting treatment?" Between the ages of seven and 10 years.

"Is the treatment painful?" Not to any degree.

"Do teeth have a tendency to decay if an appliance is worn?" There is no reason to worry about this if the teeth are kept clean and well brushed.

"How long does it take to straighten teeth?" No definite time limit can be set, as every case varies. In most cases the hardest part of the treatment is completed the first year.

Correction: In an article entitled, "Guests that Stay on for the Winter," published Jan. 19, 1940, in this column, sodium fluoride was erroneously described as harmless to man and animals.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

AS WE rode back from the club in the captain's car I noticed by the clock on the Valley bank that it was past midnight, but I was not in a position to refuse his suggestion that I return to the station with him for a talk.

At the police station we found Coroner Silver standing at the desk talking with the sergeant. He turned as we entered. He was as immaculately dressed as ever. I wondered if business interfered much with his parties. His eyebrows lifted when he saw me.

"Well," greeted the captain, "what brings you here, Silver?" The coroner frowned. "A suicide. He did not elaborate. 'I see you have the man you were after.'"

"The man you were after, not the man I was after," McDonald corrected him with a smile. "He came to the station of his own accord—after escaping from a kidnaper."

"Kidnap?" "Right."

"But—" "I know it sounds improbable," I told him. "I was knocked out by someone who was in the garden an hour after Mr. Markham's death. Louise Markham and a reporter from The Morning Eagle found me today, bound and gagged. You'll read all about it in the morning paper."

"I looked at the clock. 'I believe it's just going to press now.'"

"Hang the papers! Isn't there any way we can keep them out of this, Captain?"

Captain McDonald shrugged his big shoulders. "I'm afraid Belzer is two jumps ahead of us again. He somehow got Miss Louise Markham to help him, so there wasn't much I could do after I found out. It was too late, anyway. I didn't learn about it until a couple of hours ago."

"But we can't have the press interfering."

The captain removed his cigar and looked at it thoughtfully. It was badly mangled, but like most of his cigars, had never been lighted. "After all, I'll have to confess that Belzer has sometimes been a help to us. I'm willing to overlook this little escapade of his, especially if I find he's dug up any new facts for us. I'm curious to read what he's written." The captain, too, looked at the clock. "As Strickland says, The Morning Eagle will soon be off the press. Suppose we go somewhere for a cup of coffee, and wait?"

If the coroner had any objections he swallowed them. He must have thought he and I would be a strange looking pair. I, too, was wearing a tuxedo, but it must have looked like a car had run over me. I had soaked and dried. My trousers and coat were filthy with dirt. One knee was a bit where Belzer had examined the bullet wound.

Although the doctor, too, had a creased my leg, it still stung.

We found a coffee shop that was almost deserted. The sallow faced waitress gave me hardly a second glance. She'd probably seen Captain McDonald in queer company before.

"You'll be at the inquest tomorrow."

row, Strickland, the corner informed me in an off-hand tone as he raised his coffee cup.

Perhaps it was meant to be a question, but it sounded like an order.

"Of course, but will I be required to testify? It would seem that if I am under suspicion, anything I said might be held against me."

"You are in a rather bad spot as far as I am concerned. Suppose you ask the advice of an attorney."

"No one has charged Strickland with anything," the captain snorted indignantly. "I tell you, Silver, it's all foolishness."

"Perhaps so. On the other hand, a man is foolish to take chances."

I settled the argument. "Harry McGuire is an attorney friend of mine. I'll see him in the morning."

"In the meantime," the captain said, "we, of course, have your assurance that you'll attend the inquest?"

They were both surprised. When I had told them about the note thrown in through the window at the Markham place, Captain McDonald quickly assured me that he would have an officer guard my studio on Laurel street. I protested that it wasn't necessary, but I withdrew my protest when the thought suddenly occurred to me that perhaps he intended to guard me anyway. Perhaps he didn't trust me as much as he made out. It was an uncomfortable feeling.

I finished my coffee at a gulp and lighted a cigaret. My fingers trembled slightly.

"Captain McDonald thinks this was an almost perfect crime," I said, "planned far in advance. What is your theory, Coroner Silver?"

"I don't believe it was carefully planned. It may be a so-called 'almost perfect crime,' but that kind of crime, in which few clues are left, usually is committed on the spur of the moment. The carefully planned crime generally has so many angles that in arranging it the criminal leaves more clues than he covers up. It becomes so complicated that it gets away from him."

To transplant by this method first dig a trench all around the shrub, as shown in the accompanying drawing. The trench should be wide enough and deep enough to leave most of the roots within the ball of earth about the plant. Next thrust a sharp spade slantwise underneath the ball, thus severing any tap roots. The carefully trim the edges of the ball of earth until it is circular in shape. ### Today's Fashion

THE HALF-AND-HALF costume, patterned and plain, is popular for suits this spring. Here it is developed in navy and green plaid for the skirt, and navy wool (with a plaid collar) for the jacket. The jacket, to show that it is very new, is longer than the usual run of suit coats. The yoke terminates in a seam over the bust. The back is the same except for two inverted pleats in place of the seams. The skirt uses the plaid on the straight except for a panel center front, which is like one large box pleat.

Tuesday with 24 members and visitors enjoying the afternoon.

Mrs. E. C. Aldenderfer led the devotional reading 14 verses of the tenth chapter of St. John after the opening hymn and prayer.

Mrs. Friece arranged the program, which included readings by Miss Mary Porter, Miss Blanche Walliser, Mrs. Helen Strous and Mrs. Homer Wright, and an interesting contest. Mrs. Wright was received as a member during the business hour.

DISTRICT SCOUT FLAG AWARDED AT HONOR COURT

Probate Judge Speaks Of Juvenile Court Work, Delinquency

Advancements, promotions and merit badges were heaped on Troop 107 of the First Methodist Church and Troop 205 of the Presbyterian Church as the Boy Scout's Court of Honor met at the Circleville High School Tuesday night to award the District Flag to Troop 205.

Dr. Robert E. Hedges, chairman of the advancement committee, presided during the bestowing of the awards. The other committee members are Guy Cline, Dr. J. J. Baker, the Rev. C. F. Bowman and Joseph W. Adkins, Jr. who was named as the chairman of the advancement for 1940-41.

Advancements and awards which were given to Troop 205 of which Dr. F. C. Shaeffer is scoutmaster are as follows: Presentation of the District Flag to the entire troop; promotion to second class scout, George Towers; promotion to first class scout, Paul Staley and Mack Young; merit badges, Carl Jenkins, Mack Young, Gerald Mason, James Sensenbrenner, Paul Staley; star rank scout, Gerald Mason; senior patrol leader, Paul Staley.

The awards which were received by Troop 107 of which Ervin Leist is scoutmaster are merit badges, George Helwagen, and Robert Griesheimer; senior patrol leader, David Yates; junior assistant scout master, Carl Bach.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. C. F. Bowman of the Methodist Church as the Court of Honor convened. Eagle Scout David Yates then led the 100 persons present in the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The assembled group sang "America".

Eagle Scout Carl Bach led the troops in the recitation of the Oath and the Law.

Probate Judge Lemuel Weldon addressed the meeting and spoke on the work of the juvenile court and the problem of juvenile delinquency.

Following the judge's address, the Rev. Robert Kelsey of the Presbyterian Church introduced the members of the Court of Honor. The Court then made the presentation of the wards. Dr. J. J. Baker presented the District Flag to Troop 205.

Dr. Hedges led the singing of "God Bless America" as the last of the awards was made and Eagle Scout David Orr closed the Court by offering the Scoutmaster's Benediction.

SHOWERS FOR GIRLS CREATE BIG SPLASH

These professional models pose to show, top, the solo "correct" method of showering, and, below, "violating the rules of modesty" by sharing a shower with another girl.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., March 27—Girl physical education pupils in the local high schools can't take shower baths at school without written consent of their parents and upon their own individual option.

A spirited fuss has been kicked up by complaint of E. V. Gustafson, school board member, prominent in civic activities, who maintains that archery, rifle practice and shower baths included in the girls' physical training curriculum are of relatively little value, considering the cost.

Gustafson's objections to showers are that they take too much time, and are not necessary when classes participate in the less strenuous sports. Dr. Christine Erickson-Hill, another school board member, defends showers with the statements that modern girls demand more vigorous exercises than did their mothers of the clinging-vine days.

"Let Doctor Decide" G. W. Kim, principal of Abraham Lincoln High school, declares the school will be glad to drop showers completely whenever Council Bluffs physicians tell him the girls would be better off without them.

In a two-page statement, Gustafson said several parents complained to him about the necessity of more than one girl using the same shower compartment at the same time.

Other parents, Gustafson declared, have reported that their daughters contracted foot infection.

tion instructor, points out that showers never have been compulsory, or even expected in cold weather, that foot baths of disinfectant provided by the board of education are supervised, that girls are excused from all physical exercise whenever necessary and that "every consideration is given their health."

Because of crowded conditions, and to save time, they admit "girls who did not object were asked to go by pairs to the showers, but any girl who wished to take her shower alone was given that privilege. Every condition of modesty possible under the crowded locker condition is rigorously maintained. Girls are dismissed at staggered times to avoid congestion of the locker rooms."

Ray Myers, principal, and Hannah Nyholm, physical education instructor at Thomas Jefferson, report that girls are not compelled to take showers, that there is provision for privacy for girls desiring it, and that girls who do not take them can achieve a satisfactory rating by outlining chapters in hygiene instead. About five percent of the 620 girls enrolled there do not take showers.

Lively Topic

More than 150 persons attended one spirited school board session at which the shower question was discussed. Many voiced protests against compulsory baths, and Gustafson said that "the more I investigated the more I found pupils living under a 'fear of psychology'."

Although the board finally ordered written parental consent for showers, it laid over for future action any changes in the girls' physical training curriculum.

NEFFS, O., March 27—Clean-up crews today hoped to reach the last of the bodies of 72 miners killed in the March 16 explosion at the Willow Grove Mine of the Hanna Coal Company. Five bodies still remained in the blast-torn wreckage.

Meanwhile, state and federal mine inspectors inspected a blasted powder magazine, uncovered yesterday, which company officials said might have caused the blast or increased its force.

Officials said the powder box was considered to be almost accident-proof and that powder in it could not be set off unless the lid was open. Shortly after the explosion, however, officials said they did not consider blasting powder to be the likely cause of the explosion.

RED 'PUBLICITY' IN BOOKS GETS DIES ATTENTION

CONTEMPT THREATENED

Six-Month Survey Of Use Of Subversive Material In Volumes Ordered

WASHINGTON, March 27 — The Dies Committee moved swiftly on three fronts today in its war against un-American activities.

Developments in the campaign were:

1. Committeemen prepared to hear George Powers, Communist secretary for western Pennsylvania who was subpoenaed in Pittsburgh and ordered to bring all his party records to Washington today. Powers will be asked what Communist used the alias "Franklin D. Roosevelt" as his party name, and if he refuses to answer will face a possible contempt citation.

2. Rep. Thomas (R) N. J., a committee member, consulted an unnamed expert retained to make a six-month survey of asserted subversive material in textbooks.

"A great deal of Communist doctrine has filtered into school books and is doing immeasurable harm," Thomas declared. "Cleaning that up will be the best job this committee has ever done."

3. Investigator George F. Hurley dispatched subpoenas for "several" men to El Paso, Tex., where it is alleged Mexican and American Communists have banded together seeking to overthrow the U. S. government. Some agents working on the case declared they believed Communists in Mexico were ready to stage a revolt and were seeking to organize "fellow travelers" on this side of the border.

Investigators who subpoenaed Powers in Pittsburgh yesterday said they also tried to serve Martin Young, Allegheny County secretary for the Communist party. They reported he had "skipped," but said officers were searching for him.

Young allegedly countersigned a card bearing the alias "Franklin D. Roosevelt" and found in the possession of another Pittsburgh Communist—James Hulse Dolsen. Dolsen refused to say which member paraded under the President's name. The committee has a contempt citation pending against him.

Chairman Dies (D) Tex., announced that all key Communists in Pittsburgh who can be located will be asked about this card as well as for lists of their fellow members. If they refuse to respond, he said, they will be charged with contempt.

The committee decided yesterday to make the sweeping survey of school text books. The motion was made by Thomas, who charged that "it's a time for a show-down."

Committee Secretary Robert Stripling disclosed that in the last year he has had referred to him 300 complaints protesting against some books used in schools.

B. I. S. REPORTS ESCAPE OF TRIO; ONE IS CAUGHT

LANCASTER, March 27 — In the second escape since Sunday, three youths fled the Boys' Industrial School last night, officials reported today.

At the same time, the state highway patrol informed school authorities they had apprehended Jack Rickard, 17, of Toledo, one of three who made good his escape Sunday night. Rickard was picked up in Tiffin.

Latest to flee the Boys' Industrial School, according to officials, were John Bradner, 16, of Fostoria; Herman Weber, 16, of Hamilton, and Robert Halliday, 17, of Warren. Still at large as a result of Sunday's escape were Charles Ash, 17, Lawrence County, and Robert Knaus, 15, Cleveland.

Dishes Like This Are A Cinch

IN A MODERN TAPPAN GAS RANGE

Difficult dishes become unbelievably easy to prepare with a modern Tappan gas range. Here you see Miss Esther Roehm, food lecturer of the Gasco Food Institute, about to remove two luscious looking dishes from the roomy Tappan "Visualite" oven. Both of these servings are prepared during the second day's Food Institute program. Recipes for them appear below.

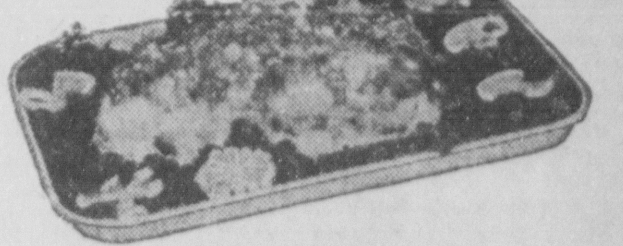

Stuffed Cabbage

1 head cabbage
1 onion
1 lb. strips bacon
1 lb. chopped uncooked beef

1 tsp. salt
Few grains pepper
1/4 c. ketchup
1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

Cook cabbage head 30 minutes. Drain, cool, remove center. Mince onion and cook with 2 strips diced bacon until light brown. Add beef, cook 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Fill cabbage with mixture. Bake in a covered casserole in moderate oven (350 degrees) 35 minutes. Garnish with bacon strips. Serves four.

Fish Baked in Vegetables

2 halibut steaks—1 inch thick (about 4 lbs.)
2 cans condensed vegetable soup (10 1/2 oz.)
1/4 c. melted butter

1 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. scraped onion
1 Tbsp. minced parsley
1 lemon (juice and rind)
2 C. bread crumbs

Mix salt, bread crumbs, onion, parsley, lemon and butter, to make stuffing. Spread this between 2 layers of fish. Cover with condensed vegetable soup. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes on greased oven-proof platter, or on parchment paper or cheese cloth in greased pan if fish must be removed to serve.

"Visualized Cooking" is the new exacting method of oven cooking made possible by Tappan's two new features — Visualite oven and Visiguide temperature chart. You'll witness this newest mode in cooking demonstrated during the programs of the 1940 Gasco Food Institute. You'll see, also, how the many improved features on modern gas ranges have made cooking vastly easier and cooking results more certain than ever before.

You'll observe the convenience and efficiency of such famous Tappan advantages as Flexo-Speed oven

MANY FARMERS OBTAIN LOANS FROM FCA FUND

Claypool Reports Figures For Last Year Showing Money Received

11TH DISTRICT CHECKED

Some Of Money Already Being Repaid; Most Due Later

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27.—Congressman H. K. Claypool today stated that according to a survey that has just been completed in the 11th Congressional District of Ohio the Farm Security Administration's program during the last year has added $82,113 to the wealth of the communities in which the borrowers reside, and has increased their purchasing power by $42,674.

The survey showed that the 541 standard rehabilitation borrowers in the Eleventh District had an average net income last year of $651.49 per family, as compared with $572.61 in the year before they came to the Farm Security Administration for help. This represents an increase of 14 percent. Moreover, these families increased their average net worth—over and above all debts—by 12 percent since coming on the program.

At the same time the survey showed that a total of $333,954 had been loaned to farm families in the district. Borrowers already have repaid $68,712 into the Federal Treasury as installments. The typical rehabilitation family in the Eleventh District has borrowed $617.29 and already has repaid $127.01. Since much of the money loaned does not fall due for four or five years, there is every reason to expect that the great bulk of it will be repaid.

The Farm Security Administration was created in 1935 to make loans to destitute and low-income farm families and has offices in each of the five county seats in the Eleventh District.

INDUSTRIES INFORMED OF SAFETY CONGRESS

R. C. Jones of the Division of Safety and Hygiene, Industrial Commission of Ohio, was in Circleville Wednesday looking after safety surveys and contacting local industrialists in connection with the eleventh annual session of the All Ohio Safety Congress and Exhibit, to be held at the Deshler-Wallick, Columbus, April 16-17-18, 1940.

"The object of the Congress," said Mr. Jones, "is to gather into conference those charged with accident prevention in industry, with the purpose of exchanging views on safety methods and safe practices that have proven effective in their respective plants and to hear discussions by nationally-known leaders on programs for stimulating safety spirit among employees and on specific accident problems facing the various industrial classifications."

"In addition to general sessions daily, designed to deal abstractly with the problems of industrial safety, there will be sectional meetings for all the major industrial groups, at which discussions will be devoted to the particular problems of each group. Speakers on these various programs include many of the nation's leaders in safety thought and action, who will present the most modern ideas on plans designed to reduce the suffering and sorrow incident to occupational injuries, and at the same time, lighten the economic burden which needless accidents place on both employer and employee."

THEORETICAL PAY INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA—Frank Gerson, Philadelphia's unpaid fireman, now receives 50 cents more per day, but only in theory. As a result of routine action by the Civil Service Commission, Frank's salary was upped from $5 to $5.50, although he has not received any pay since September, 1938. At that time he became embroiled with the body over his age and his check has been held up.

GERMAN U-BOAT WAR IN EUROPE REPORTED OFF BOOSTS TRAVEL ECUADOR COAST TO HAWAII AREA

BALBOA, Canal Zone — The United States Naval Intelligence of the Fifteenth Naval District today was investigating reports of the alleged activities of two German submarines in the vicinity of the Galapagos Islands. Naval authorities said they had not yet sent any planes or ships to the Galapagos and would make no move until "Definite confirmation" is received.

According to reports received from Guayaquil, Ecuador, residents of Galapagos saw two German subs taking on supplies and fuel from unidentified ships near Sullivan Bay, Galapagos. On January 3 two German Lloyd motorships, the "Quito" and "Bogota," which had been self interned at Guayaquil, cleared that port and arrived three weeks later at Chilean ports.

Observers at Naval headquarters and also at Guayaquil are

SAN FRANCISCO — With American travel giving war-torn areas a wide berth, Hawaii is finding herself in a highly preferred position, according to the San Francisco office of the U. S. Travel Bureau.

"Ordinarily, there are slack travel periods between seasons, but this year the luxurious ocean liners plying between the Pacific Coast and the Islands are carrying a constant flow of travel, the volume of which is considerably greater than at any time in Hawaii's history," the bureau reported. "Hawaii National Park reports a 15 percent increase in number of visitors registering during the 1940 travel year over the same period last year."

speculating on the possibility that these "feeder" ships may be the ones which are fueling German subs known to be in the Pacific.

HEIDT POPULAR

"Pot 'o Gold" popularity of Horace Heidt and his orchestra has been increasing theatre attendance wherever Heidt's troupe has played in its tour from West to East. For instance, at the Orpheum in Minneapolis, a week of Heidt grossed $19,300. According to The Billboard, an average week's draw at this theatre is $4,400. The same authority notes that in Milwaukee, despite bad weather and strong competition from a civic Home Show, the "Pot 'o Gold" unit drew $13,100 as against the usual $7,000 week for the Riverside Theatre. In the show houses Heidt is using the same troupe that broadcasts each Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. on the NBC-Red network. It includes such celebrated performers as Bobby Hackett, Frankie Carle, the Le Ann Sisters, Larry Cotton, Red Farrington, Art Carney, Bob Knight and the Drane Sisters.

Smith, Tydings and Johnson Declare Stand Hurting Party's Chances

Louisiana Solon's Speech Brings Other Comment From Washington

WASHINGTON, March 27 — Renewed demands on President Roosevelt to reveal his stand on the third term issue were made today by prominent Democrats, amid charges his silence is jeopardizing Democratic success in November.

A flurry of Democratic comment followed the action of Sen. Overton, mild New Dealer from Louisiana, in urging Mr. Roosevelt to propose a constitutional amendment, outlawing a third term for any president. Overton expressed fear that "if the President runs for a third term, he may invite disaster to his party and himself."

Three Democratic senators — "Cotton Ed" Smith, of South Carolina, Tydings of Maryland, and Johnson of Colorado — shared Overton's fears and warned their Democratic colleagues that the President's silence was booming Republican hopes for victory in the coming elections. Smith proposed a series of Democratic rallies throughout the country to repudiate the third term boom for Mr. Roosevelt.

Clark in Action

While Republicans appeared to be harmonizing all differences, a new Democratic flareup broke out in Missouri. Sen. Bennett Clark, abandoning a favorite-son candidacy for the Democratic nomination, called for election of an un-instructed delegation by Missouri Democrats. Opposed to a third term, Clark announced himself a candidate for chairmanship of the delegation and took an indirect slap at Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, a third term advocate.

Writing George K. Williams, a veteran Missouri Democrat, to decline a favorite-son endorsement, Clark said:

"If I am named chairman of the delegation, it will never be traded off for any office or for any purpose... I would not accept either the vice presidency or a cabinet office as a gift."

This statement was interpreted as a slap at Stark, variously mentioned as a candidate for the senate, as a running-mate for Mr. Roosevelt on a third term ticket, and as a potential secretary of the navy in a third term cabinet.

Smith announced he had finally come to the conclusion that "Mr. Roosevelt is not going to run but he likes to be a man of mystery."

Then he added: "It has got where the welfare of the country is jeopardized by his silence. I have been having talks with other senators and suggested a series of meetings all over the country to repudiate this sort of handling of the party. Of course, the real Democratic party has no part in this government now. Real Democrats are not at all a part of this New Deal party."

STARS SAY—

For Wednesday, March 27

AN EXCITING day, with swift-moving events transpiring in all departments of life, is forecast by the lunar and mutual aspects. It is probable that the adventurous and high-tensioned occurrences may be experienced in the realm of the emotions, romantic attachments or love life, where tempest, jealousy, passion and violence are likely to burst all bonds of restraint and prudence. In business impetuosity, strife and aggressiveness may prove detrimental, whereas calmness, consideration and subdued handling would be profitable.

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of a year of high-pressure experiences, with all the energies and faculties under tension and stress to a perilous degree. Romance, emotional urges and all intimate expressions are subject to distress and disturbance because of impulsive and reckless behavior. Business also suffers from want of restraint, cool judgment and discreet management.

A child born on this day may be active, energetic, aggressive, original and sagacious, with tendencies toward jealousy and vindictiveness, unless given early discipline. It may have a softer side, social, diplomatic and friendly.

PUERTO RICO SUGAR

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico.—The U. S. Territory of Puerto Rico has approximately 325,000 acres planted in sugar cane—the island's chief crop—according to figures released by the Chamber of Commerce of Puerto Rico.

short-handed they were on anti-aircraft guns, after the raid, the British actually borrowed 26 of these guns from Belgium.

Real fact is that what the Allies need most are the U. S. plane detector, secret bomb-sight, and anti-aircraft gun-sight. The British have developed nothing comparable to the U. S. airplane detector, which is why the German planes took Scaap Flow by surprise.

It was obvious also from the poor bombing marksmanship over the German island of Sylt that the British have no bomb-sight which comes anywhere near the Americans.

Note—The Allies have not asked for the release of these three important U. S. military and naval inventions.

SIGHTSEER STOKOWSKI

Orchestra leader Leopold Stokowski's famous vacation on the Isle of Capri with Greta Garbo was the subject of quite a controversy at one of the closed-door meetings of the House Appropriations Committee.

Representative John Taber, strait-laced upstate New Yorker, brought it up while the National Youth Administration budget was under consideration. Stokowski is organizing an orchestra of NYA students for a goodwill tour of South America this summer, and Taber charged that the NYA was spending a large sum of money on the project.

Administrator Aubrey Williams quickly disproved this by showing that the NYA had nothing to do with the undertaking except to arrange "tryouts" for orchestra applicants. This silenced Taber but not Representative Albert Engel of Michigan.

"Well, what about those stories I read some time ago about his roaming around Europe with Greta Garbo?" Engel demanded. "Now I know Europeans have different standards from ours, but that's no reason why we should. I suggest we call this Mr. Stokowski down here and make him prove he is the right kind of a person to conduct a youth orchestra."

Again Williams interceded, assured the committee that he could submit "documentary proof" that Stokowski was all right. The committee agreed, and a few days later the "documentary proof" arrived.

It consisted of a letter from Stokowski stating that his visit to Italy was "for the sole purpose of revisiting the Old Masters in the Vatican."

FARLEY SITS TIGHT

Despite Inner Circle resentment against Jim Farley, you can write it down that he will not step out as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Neither will he relinquish his other two jobs, Postmaster General and New York State Democratic Chairman.

No one can compel Farley to resign as National Chairman, except the National Committee itself, and there is no chance of that between now and the convention, at which time a new committee is elected.

There also is no likelihood of Roosevelt firing Farley as Postmaster General, no matter how sore he may get at him. Roosevelt doesn't fire people, especially Cabinet members.

So Jim, secure on all flanks, intends to sit tight until after the convention. What he does then depends on what happens at Chicago. Inner Circle resentment against Farley's retention of the National Chairmanship, now that he is an avowed White House candidate, is extremely bitter. The New Dealers contend that this is poor sportsmanship and a violation of the spirit of the Hatch Act.

They hold that the National Chairman, with the party organization in his hands, should be an impartial figure. With Jim an active candidate, obviously he can't be impartial. The New Dealers even charge that he is using the party machinery to boost his own campaign.

But Jim indignantly denies this. He replies that other members of the Cabinet, including the President, have their hats in the ring and he doesn't see why he isn't entitled to do likewise.

FEWER RED SCHOOLHOUSES

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The "little red schoolhouse" soon may be only a memory to Pennsylvania school children. Old-style school structures are disappearing at the rate of 300 a year because of consolidations which absorbed 4,000 one-teacher schools into larger schools, the State Department of Public Instruction reported.

FAMILY OF BARBERS

PHILADELPHIA.—The Luongo brothers have the barber business in South Philadelphia just about cut and dried. Five brothers—Gabriel, Daniel, Michael, Pasquale, and Joseph—own shops in this city, while a sixth brother, Emilio, cuts hair in Buenos Aires. Daniel came to America first, and sent for the others one by one as his own shop prospered.

MATES DECLARE THAT MEDWICK HAS SIGNED UP

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.,
March 27—Joe Medwick, slugging St. Louis Cardinal outfielder who prolonged his holdout far beyond the customary date, today was reported to have signed a contract for 1940.

The report came from Medwick's
Cardinal teammates, but both Medwick and the Cardinal management declined to confirm the report before leaving last night on an exhibition tour which will take them to Cuba.

Medwick had been offered $18-000 and had demanded $20,000 for his services. The report of his signing did not indicate at which
been reached.

HARTNETT CHOOSES HIS OUTFIELD FOR CAMPAIGN

LOS ANGELES, March 27—Chicago Cub Manager Gabby Hartnett, after shifting his outfield for several weeks, today was reported settled on Hank Leiber, Augie Galan and Dominic Dallesandro for these posts. Leiber is the best thrower of the three, and probably also will get the cleanup position in the batting order most of the time.

KLEIN REJOINS PHILS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 27
For the third time in his major league career, Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder, today was on the roster of the Phillies. Released by the Pittsburgh Pirates, Klein signed with the Phils and was due to arrive here in time for this afternoon's game with the St. Louis Cardinals. Manager Doc Prothro was hoping the veteran would add needed batting punch to the Phillies' attack.

DIMAG, GORDON OUT

HAINES CITY, Fla., March 27 —Before heading into the West for a trip through Texas, the New York Yanks today took on their Kansas City farm team for another training season game. Joe Di-Maggio is suffering from a pain in the shoulder and Joe Gordon is also on the sidelines with a lame back.

WOMEN HUNTERS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., — California women hunters last year slew
1,520 deer, or 3.6 percent of the 47,000 deer "harvest" the state bureau of game conservation announced in Sacramento.

Nurmi Says Many Marks To Fall In Sunday Race

By Pat Robinson

NEW YORK, March 27—Paavo Nurmi today predicted that Taisto Maki would run the fastest 3-mile race ever seen when the young Finn toes the mark against Gregory Rice, Don Lasli and Joe McCluskey in Madison Square Garden Sunday night.

Speaking through an interpreter, the old Finnish maestro of the tanbark and cinder path, declared his young charge not only would win the race but would erase from the books world records that Nurmi himself set 15 years ago.

"I'm afraid that my name is going to disappear from the books after Sunday," said the one-time king of distance runners. "I think six of my records, two held by another Finn, Willie Ritola, and one to the credit of Edwin Wide, the Swede, are all going to fall."

Paavo had reference to the intermediate distances between 2-000 meters and three miles. Dan Ferris, director of this track meet of champions, has arranged to have a flock of timers stationed at various points to "catch" the runners as they speed to new records.

The first set of marks due to take a beating are Nurmi's 5:22.4 for 2,000 meters and his 5:34.8
for 1 1/2 miles and Wide's 6:37.8 for 1 1/2 miles. These should fall before the flying feet of Chuck Fenske, Gene Venzke, Ralph Schwartzkopf or Walter Mehl who will meet in a special 1 1/2 mile race.

Seven more world marks will be endangered in the 3-mile run.
These are Nurmi's 7:51.4 for 1 3/4 miles; 8:29 for 1 1/2 miles; 10:19 for 2 1/4 miles; 11:30.8 for 4,000 meters; Ritola's 11:45.8 for 2 1/2 miles and 12:57.8 for 2 3/4 miles, and finally, Gregory Rice's recent 13:55.9 for the full three miles.

Nurmi shrugged off a suggestion that Rice, rather than Maki, might be the man to set up some new figures because of the little Notre Dame runner's superior finishing drive.

"It may be that Rice is faster than Maki," said Paavo, "but remember, that there is such a thing as running the 'kick' out of a superior sprinter. I used to do that myself."

ETTORE, KAYOED BY MANY, GIVES PAYCHEK CHANCE

By Lawton Carver

NEW YORK, March 27—Al Et-tore, who long since has eagerly embraced permanent retirement from the storm and strife of pugilistic warfare, stuck his head out of seclusion at Philadelphia long enough today to insist for the benefit of the writer that Johnny Paychek may knock Joe Louis loose from the heavyweight championship here Friday night. Et-tore was pursued by his lair for his observations on the encounter because he is in the unique position of being the best possible judge of the relative merits of the principals. He was stiffened by both of them.

The sawed-off Philadelphia Italian doesn't regard Paychek as the rank set-up he has been pictured by most of us on the sidelines, and he wouldn't be astounded if a form upheaval occurred when the seeming fiasco begins to unfold at Madison Square Garden. However, what Ettore has to say is more or less qualified by the assertion that Paychek must score a knockout or suffer the consequences in vice versa.

"Paychek is a very smart boxer, he moves around well and he is a wonderful puncher with his right hand," Ettore said. "He is the only fighter who has a chance to knock Louis out in a couple of rounds—and he may do it. If he doesn't, then Louis will win by a knockout. Louis hits hard with either hand."

SCO OFFICIALS SET SCHEDULE FOR NEXT YEAR

Cage Title Awarded To Greenfield; No Trophy Bought By Loop

OFFICIATING DISCUSSED

List Of About 100 Names
Cut Down To 15 By Coaches

Moguls of the South Central Ohio Athletic League met Tuesday evening in Hillsboro to award the basketball championship to Greenfield McClain and to plan schedules for the next year. Coaches
Roy Black and Tom Armstrong, Faculty Manager Virgil Cress and Principal J. Wray Henry attended the meeting as representatives of Circleville High.

Greenfield went through the South Central cage league race without a defeat. The league, which has no finances with which to buy trophies, gave the Greenfield school permission to buy its own trophy.

Circleville, Wilmington and Washington C. H. announced that they would engage in golf and track competition, and Greenfield, Wilmington and Washington C. H. will engage in tennis and baseball.
Hillsboro does not participate in any spring sports. The league track meet will be May 7 in Washington
C. H.

Schedules for football and basketball in 1940 and 1941 were set up, Circleville traveling to Greenfield and Washington C. H. next fall and Wilmington and Hillsboro coming to Circleville.

The league officials went into the question of basketball officiating at great length and out of a list that totalled between 75 and 100 officials only 15 received unanimous approval. No names were disclosed.

The league's officiating rules were altered beginning next cage season when only one official will be hired to work varsity games.
He will not be asked to officiate in the reserve contests, though, home talent to be employed for this job. League officials believe that one man can do a better job than two in the varsity games.

REGULARS START THEIR ASSAULTS ON ABC ALLEYS

DETROIT, March 27—Headed by the Hermann Undertakes of St.
Louis, world's match game five-man champions, regulars from 39 states today began to dominate the American Bowling Congress tournament.

With the exception of three squads of boosters tonight and April 29 and 30, only regulars will be rolling from now until the tournament ends May 7.

Meantime, the executive committee of the ABC went into session to consider 51 proposed amendments. Their recommendations will be passed on to the delegates at the annual meeting Friday when tournament sites for 1941 and 1942 will be voted.

St. Paul seems assured of the 1941 tournament but a battle for the championships the following year seemed probable with Buffalo and Atlantic City indicating they will contest Columbus and Indianapolis. This is the first time that the site will be chosen two years in advance.

C. OF C. URGED TO PUT EFFORT ON FARM WORK

INDUSTRIES DISCUSSED

Fight For Retention Of Business Cited As Important

Calling for closer cooperation between the small towns of central and southern Ohio and pointing out the need for the towns to find a common basis on which to meet and work, James Wells, manager of the Logan Chamber of Commerce, told the members of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce at its meeting in the American Hotel Tuesday evening that more can be accomplished by a strong block in Columbus by "horse-trading than by speech making."

"If the communities of this area find a common basis and work closely with their representatives in the legislature, regardless of party, then they will gain a powerful voice and be able to accomplish the things that can and should be done in this section of the state," Wells remarked.

Normal Area Disappears
"The whole thing is the result of a natural evolution of the paved road. The once normal trading area is disappearing as buyers find it easy to travel into Columbus or any other big town nearby."

Wells didn't preclude new business. The search for new business should supplement rather than take precedence over the fight for the retention of old business. Towns remain small because the men in the towns do not have the outlook to make them big.

He urged the Circleville Chamber of Commerce to get greater agricultural representation on the board of directors and in the membership. Stressing the fact that Hocking County has a poor agricultural foundation, he remarked that it is that very reason why the Chamber should interest itself in building what agriculture there is. "Hocking County is trying to build up an adverse agricultural situation; Pickaway County should try to perpetuate a good situation. You have some of the best soil under the blue sky and should do all that is possible to aid the farmer and bring them closer to the city and the community," he said.

Help Rather Than Direct

Directing his speech toward industry, Wells said the Chamber of Commerce should attempt to work with industry to help solve the problems rather than attempt to direct and determine the policies that industry should follow. But no one industry should be dominant to the point where it directs all others and dictates policy.

As a parallel, he remarked that no town should follow one fixed policy. The only policy to which a town should bind itself fast, is that of making it a better place to live for the average man and woman. He questioned the value of a low wage industry to any town and said that communities would fare better without them.

The task of the Chamber of Commerce should be to build a wholesome civic spirit which should include the schools, churches, recreation, housing and anything that would make the town a better place to live. The duty of the Chamber of Commerce is not to the individual, but to the community.

Stressing once more the need for closer cooperation between the towns, he urged the Circleville Chamber to realize that it is the gateway to southern Ohio lying on Routes 23, 22 and 56. It is not a question of just developing Hocking County, he said, but rather all the counties in this section.

Ohio is the bottleneck through which all the east-west traffic flows and the state should capitalize on that fact, he concluded.

Membership Sought

Following the address by Wells, Ray Rowland, president of the Circleville Chamber, announced that a general meeting will be held the fourth Tuesday of each month. He also urged a determined drive for membership.

The Board of Directors met following the conclusion of the meeting and discussed the possibility of bringing new industry to Circleville. Two firms whose names were not disclosed will be approached in the near future with such a step in view.

Play of Junior Class Ready for Presentation

After several weeks of intensive rehearsal, the Junior Class of Circleville High School is ready to present its play, "June Mad." The talent of the class will be paraded Thursday and Friday evenings, March 28 and 29.

Samuel R. Johnson, director, has made the following selection of characters for the comedy in which several members of the cast will perform on different nights:

Penny Wood, Norma Jean Brown on Thursday and Rose Anne Griner, Friday.
Chuck Harris, James Callihan

on Thursday and Lloyd Jones, Friday.

Mrs. Wood, Marjorie Friece on Thursday and Mary K. Pile, Friday.
Elmer Tuttle, William Thornton.

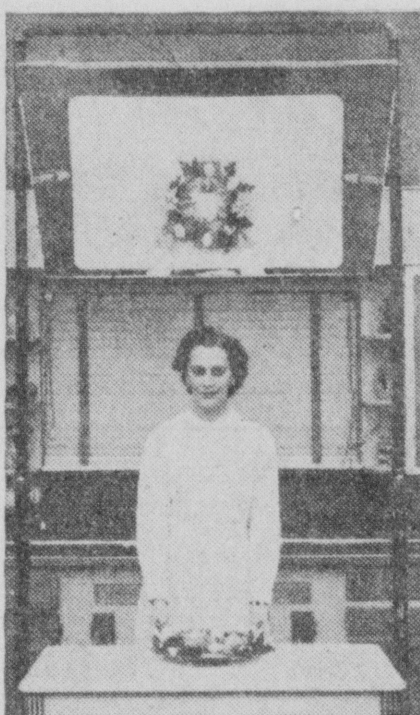

Doctor Wood, Charles Mumaw. Effie, Peggy Goeller. Milly Lou, Mary Schreiner. G. Mervyn Roberts, Leland Siegwald.
Rober Van Vleck, Paul Turner. Mr. Harris, George Skaggs on Thursday and Jack Beck, Friday. Shirley Wentworth, Helen Beck.

Ralph Wentworth, Lloyd Jones on Thursday and James Callihan, Friday.
Julie Harris, Doris Waters on Thursday and Mary Adele Snider, Friday.

Mr. Johnson has called a dress rehearsal for Wednesday evening. This comedy, based on the novel, "This Awful Age," was written by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements. It is produced by special arrangement with Samuel French.

Richard Sheridan Ames in "Script" writes: "The obvious thing to say about 'June Mad,' the new comedy by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements, which reduced its audience to a state of laughter-limp and pop-off-the-vest-buttons merriment, is that the observant authors know more about America's adolescents than anyone else since Booth Tarkington."

Mirrors Praised

MERCURY MOVES UP TO 40 MARK TUESDAY NIGHT

With all the tricks that the weather has been playing in recent weeks, including the fall from Indian summer a week ago to the below freezing weather of this week, the nearest trick was reported by the weather bureau Wednesday.

The high temperature of Tuesday was 40. The low temperature of Wednesday was 40. Instead of taking the nightly plunge Tuesday, the temperature just did the reverse of the old play and rose to 40, threatened to go to 41, and then settled itself comfortably at the 40-degree mark.
